"Of every noble work the silent part is best,
Of all expression that which cannot be expressed."

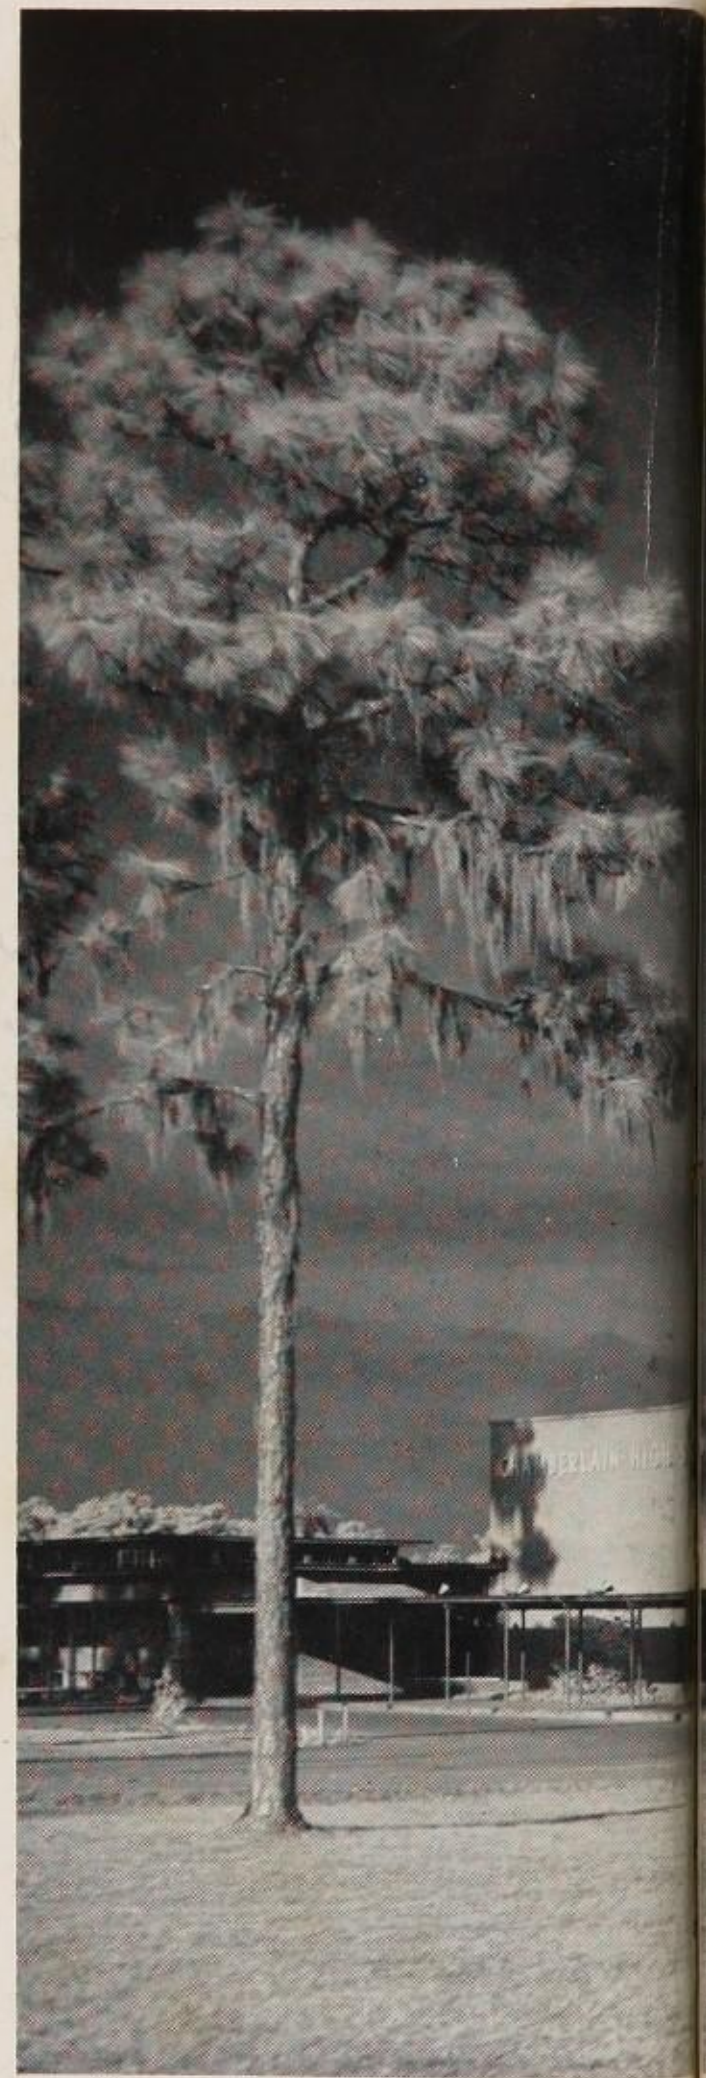

—William Wetmore Story

YOUNG ADULT MINDS need basic knowledge and guidance while they grope their way through the teenage years and search for a place in society. They must be enriched, that they may be ever growing and expanding for their own good as well as the good of their fellow men and followers. Chamberlain provides for these essential qualities by allowing a person to express his individual talents and desires.

Expression is the motive behind freedom and liberty for which man has so vigorously fought since time immemorial, and will go on fighting for as long as he exists. At Chamberlain students have the opportunity to express themselves academically, socially, and athletically while acquiring skills and receiving essential guidance from qualified counselors so that they may learn to use their knowledge and special talents for the greater good of themselves and their country.

All activities of campus life are forms of expression. The creation of a painting, a dress, a project in history, a short story, a table, an editorial, a cake, or a chemical product, all are acts of expression. The presentation of "The Messiah," or a dramatic work, or a selection of marches, or a precision drill offer ways of expression. Participation in sports or academic contests, in service programs or school dances, individual or group work, all demand expression of self.

In this book are pictures and words to catch the expression of Chamberlain in work and play.

TOWERING STADIUM LIGHT illustrates Chiefs belief: "The sky's the limit."

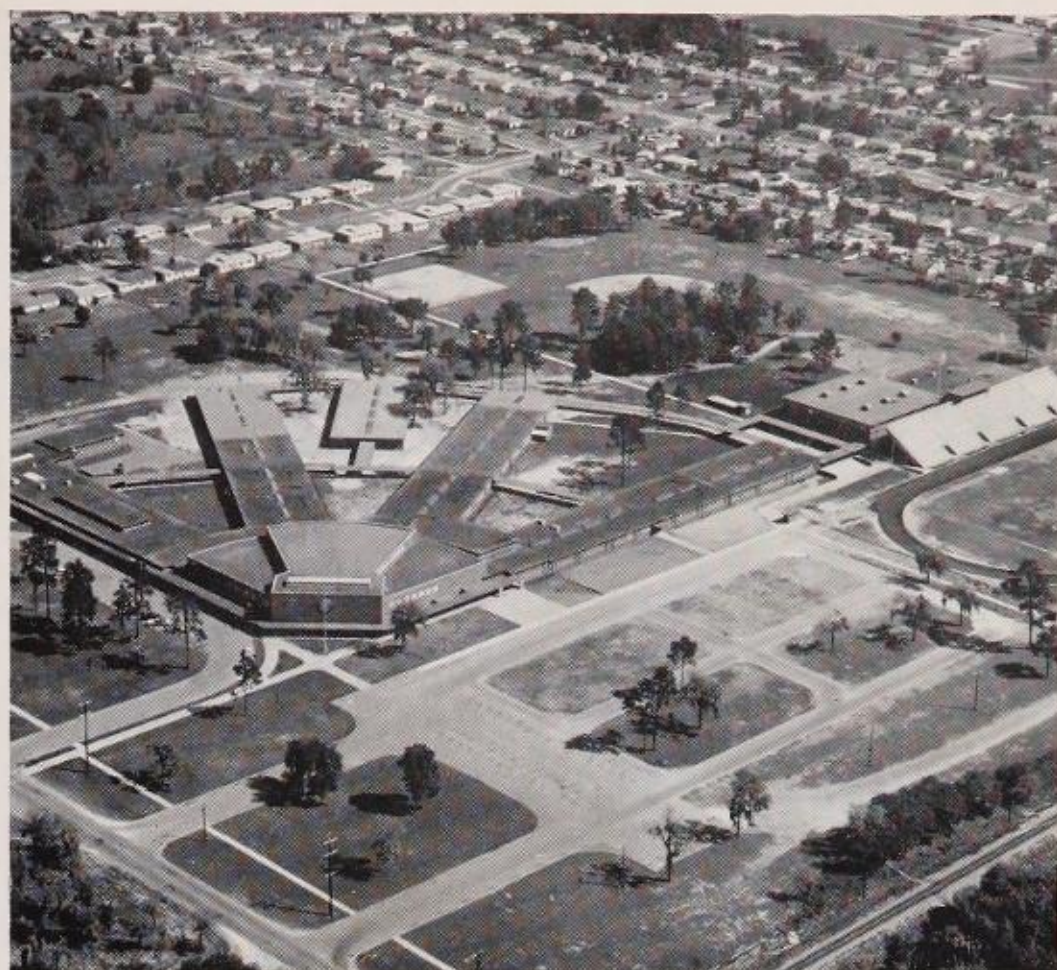

APPROACHING THE GYM from the outside trail, we are reminded of the time it takes to make the trip around the outside campus.

Our Campus

Reflects an expression

CHAMBERLAIN CHIEFS—the magic words which bring to the minds of each of us a different, yet wonderful, meaning. There is a good feeling of accomplishment, mixed with a little bit of pride, as we view our alma mater from varied angles. Expression of a new idea in design was fulfilled when Chamberlain was built. Its sturdy red brick walls and inviting halls represent a new type of architecture of our day. The spacious auditorium, the laughter-filled cafeteria, the stadium and gym which harbor the memories of many victories, and the numerous bases for learning collectively compose our high school. But more is required . . . people. This red brick structure represents a type of thinking; it symbolizes the ideals and moral standards of the citizens of tomorrow. These standards are only as good as the people who set them, and these people must possess the knowledge and maturity to aim higher for a world of peace, unity, and freedom.

TRIBAL GROUNDS of the Chamberlain Chiefs take on a vastness from the air.

THIS WALKWAY demonstrates the contemporary architecture of CHS.

of beauty

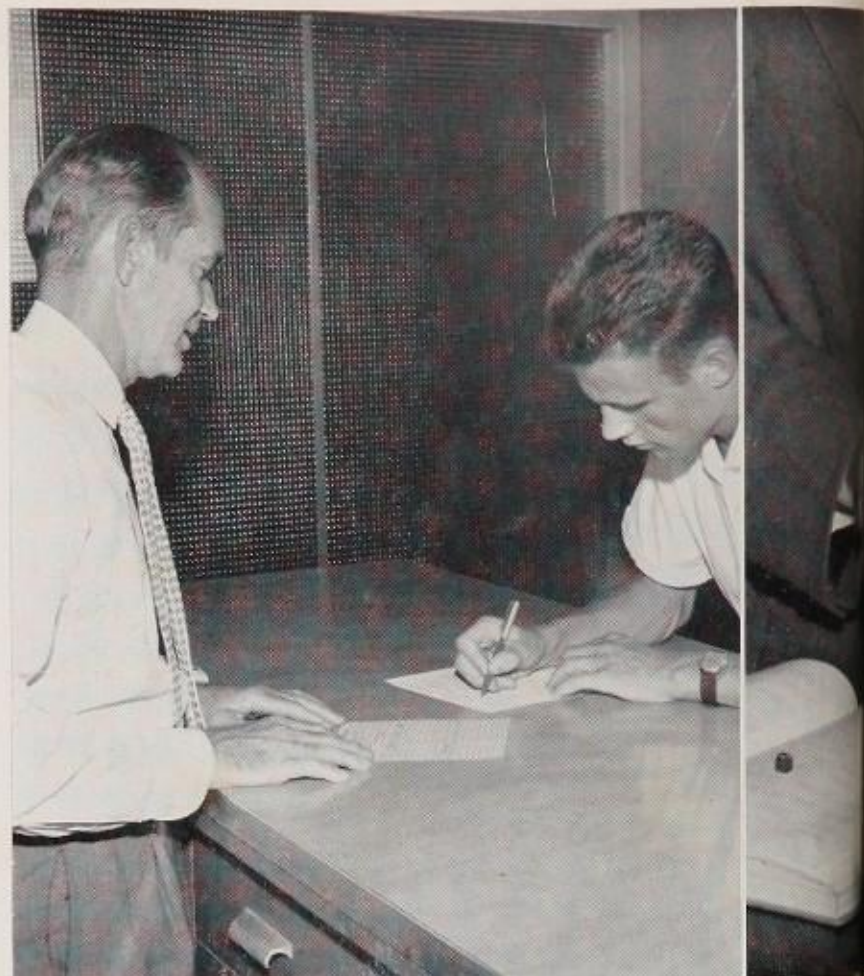

THE "HUB" reflects a hearty welcome to all who seek to learn within these walls.

Expression is the keynote of each individual's life. An application of this statement is found in the Constitution of the United States of America. What are the basic rights of the individual described therein? They include freedom of religion, speech, and the press; in other words, freedom of expression. Without this freedom, life is worthless. It is not only the big decisions which produce a stable individual, but rather every thought, word, and deed occupying every moment of that individual's life.

Each person has a dream of his own to fulfill, a goal to attain. The Chiefs' motto states this same idea: "Ad stellas aspiramus (to the stars we aspire)." Expression motivates thought, which leads to words. Words produce action, which results in achievement, the reward for a job well done. The most powerful type of expression is that which has a background of education. Devouring the knowledge and experience bestowed upon them by their teachers, individuals express themselves scholastically. These are the real leaders, for they set the standards for posterity.

Expression of an idea can best be revealed through the beauty and color of a meaningful picture, the sound of a stirring musical composition and the wonder and magic of words; this is culture.

express themselves through their work and play

OUR EFFORTS toward physical perfection are expressed through sports, the grueling battles which demonstrate courage and stamina. Club organizations provide opportunities for expression of self through service, cooperation, and further pursuit of special interests. Here, also, are made a great number of friendships, some permanent and others not, but all leaving wonderful memories to be treasured in countless tomorrows.

What is the real significance in the words "Chamberlain High School"? In a word, it is "spirit," which is produced by its members who express the complete meaning of it. Spirit is not only the wild cheering or great pride in victories and recognition; it is an individual quality possessed by humans which raises them from the level of animals to that of civilization. Like a flame, this spirit is sparked in Chamberlain, developed, and kept brighter with each new year. It can be felt by all who enter her stately halls and in the presence of her sons and daughters.

Chiefs begin to realize their responsibilities, not only to those surrounding them, but to themselves. And the greatest of these responsibilities is preserving freedom of expression, for life itself is expression.

HURRICANE DONNA'S forceful winds raised waves that pounded jetties and seawalls along the West Coast of Florida and left considerable damage and a drenched earth.

Our Community

Churns with violent storms and turbulent

WHEN NATURE demonstrated her forces twice in this area, Chamberlain was on hand to assist the Community, expressing her loyalty and readiness to serve. Hillsborough River, a site for numerous pleasures and enjoyments, and the "swimming hole" of many Chiefs, rebelled during summer vacation and overed her banks. The home of the Chiefs provided shelter for those in need. Numerous students, parents, and faculty members joined with others in the community to help during the dramatic moments of 1960. Early in the school year another of nature's challengers, unladylike Hurricane Donna, caused Chamberlain and the surrounding area to combine forces again. With constant progress and ever-growing importance, our community witnessed an occasion only possible every four years, presidential campaigns. Senator John F. Kennedy and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon were welcomed by enthusiastic crowds, eager to take part in national affairs by voting in a free election in which their decision determines the outcome. And in the heart of all this activity is Chamberlain High School, serving the community.

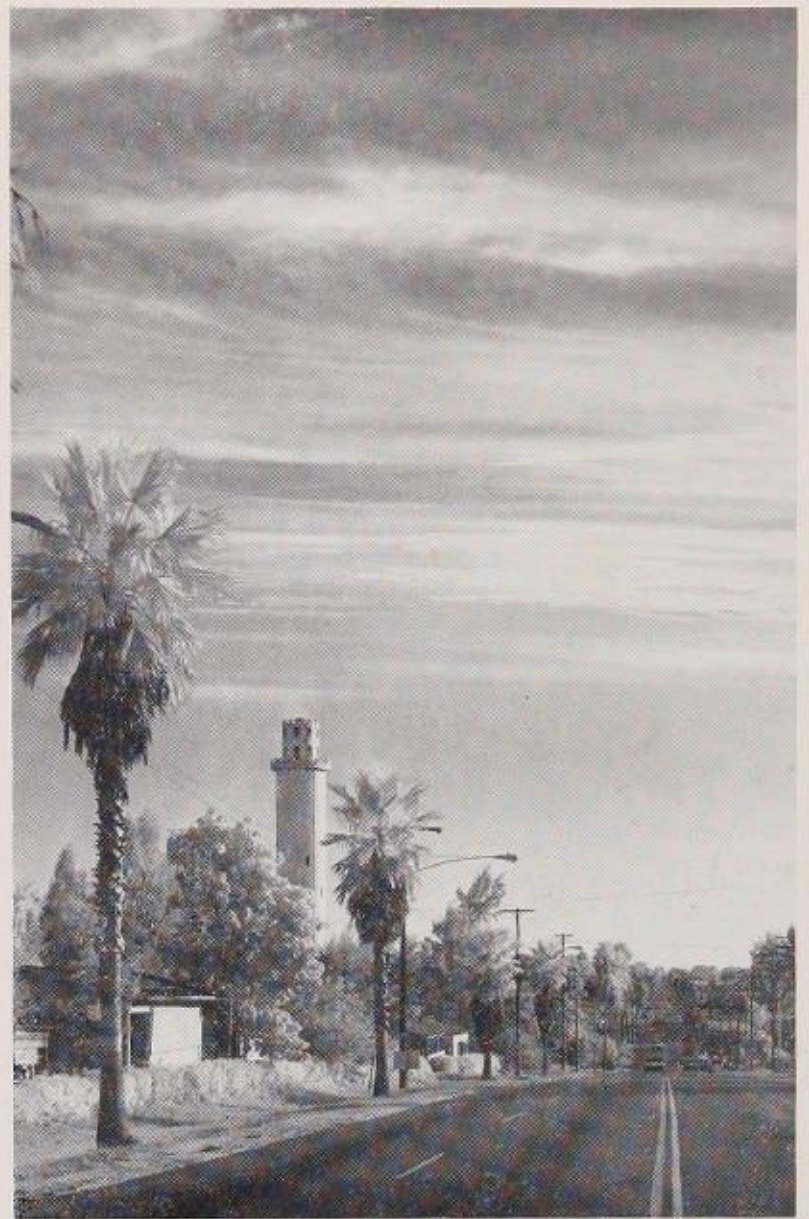

THE BEAUTIFUL Hillsborough River graces our community as it calmly follows its course to the bay.

ONE OF THE MANY important events in Tampa was the campaigning of Senator John F. Kennedy.

FROM A HILL near the Chiefs' tribal grounds one may look south toward downtown Tampa.

The city speaks

BORROWING THE ROMANTIC color and fervent spirit of the Indians who first settled here and the Spanish Conquistadors who civilized it, Tampa has expanded from a village on the river into a thriving metropolis of people engaged in numerous activities. Chamberlain Chiefs enthusiastically participate in a cavalcade of events.

Through Tampa's busy port, third-ranking in the nation, products are exported and imported to and from all parts of the world. Visitors and businessmen pass through the international airport on their way to the Caribbean and South America.

Opportunities for higher education are becoming more extensive every year for the people of Tampa and its neighbors. This new University of South Florida, in addition to the University of Tampa, offers tremendous benefits.

MINARETS AND PALM TREES create an exotic atmosphere for the University of Tampa.

◀ IN BRILLIANT Christmas evening array Tampa is a warm and friendly city.

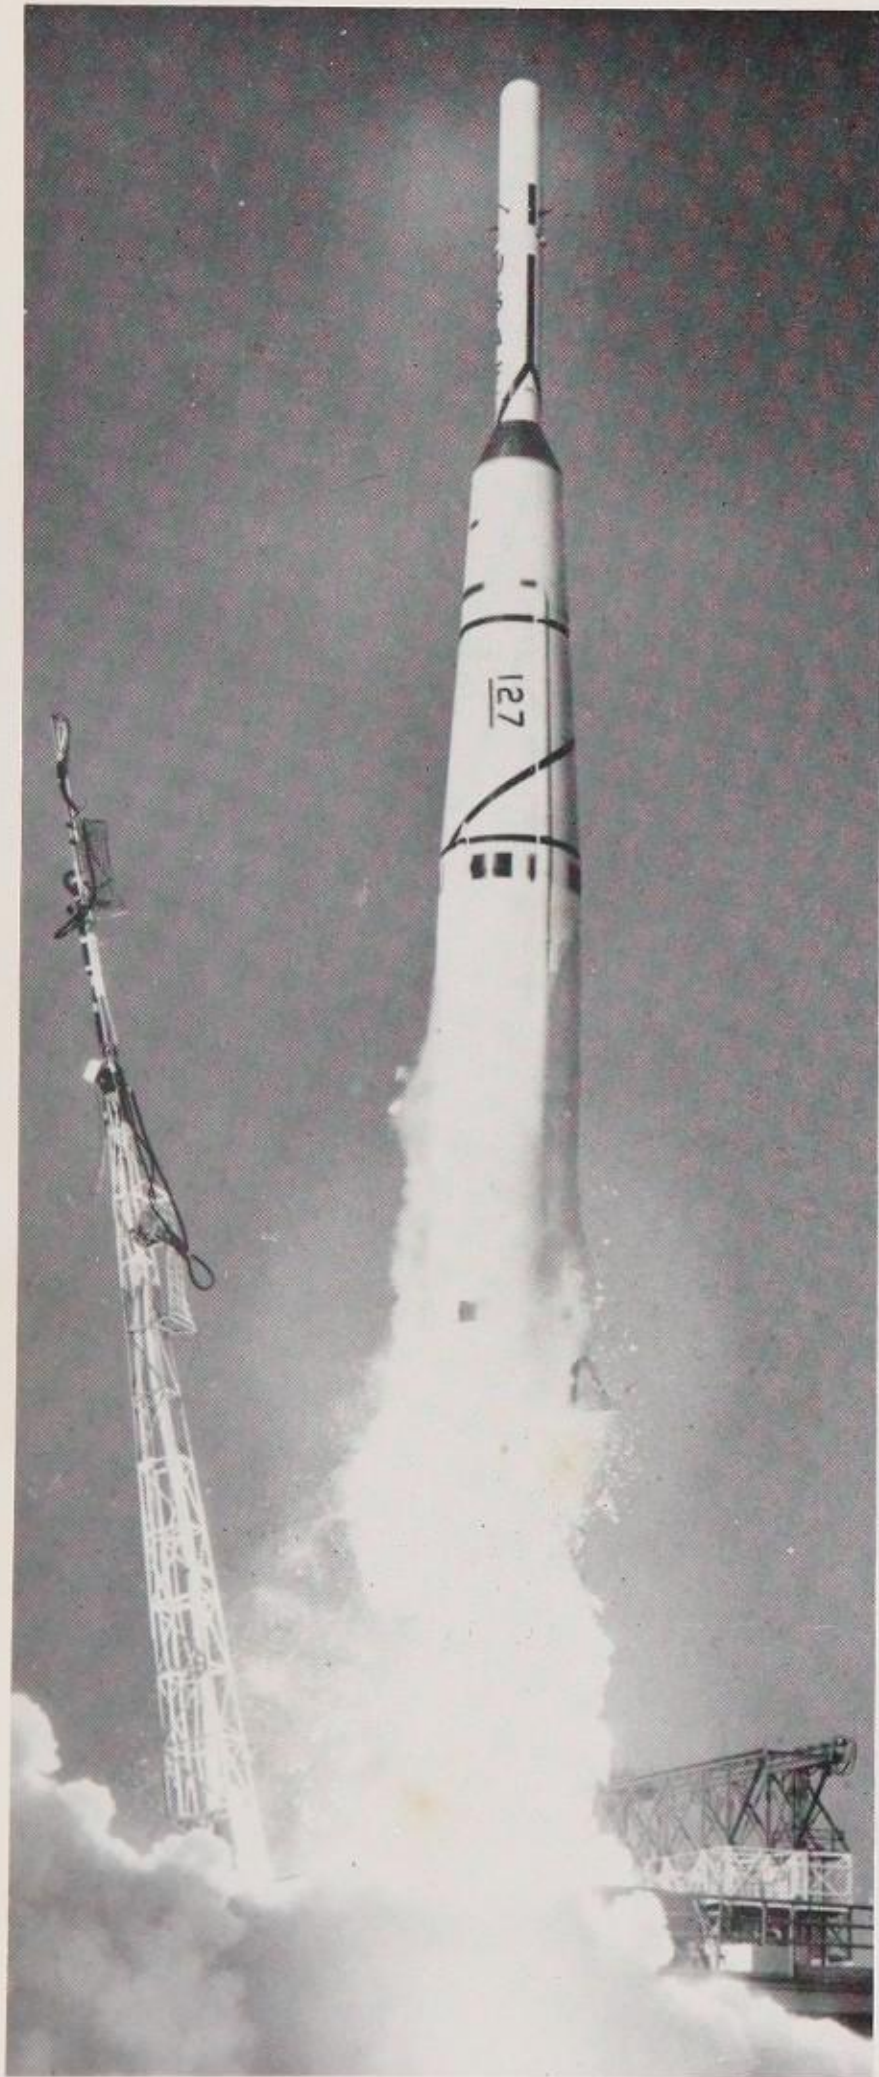

NOISE AND GAY festivities mark the arrival of the JOSE GASPAR at the annual Gasparilla Invasion.

THE UNIVERSITY of South Florida welcomes the first freshman class with promises of things to come.

The great guessing game . . .

INTERNATIONAL: 5 - 4 - 3 - 2 - 1 . . .

NATIONAL: "Are you voting for him?"

STATE: Candidates Bryant and Carlton vie for Governor's chair.

LOCAL: New tradition begins with the raising of the Victory Flag.

The challenge of the future

UNPREDICTABLE or anticipated, festive or routine, light and airy or earnest and serious—1960 offered a variety of lasting and memorable moments.

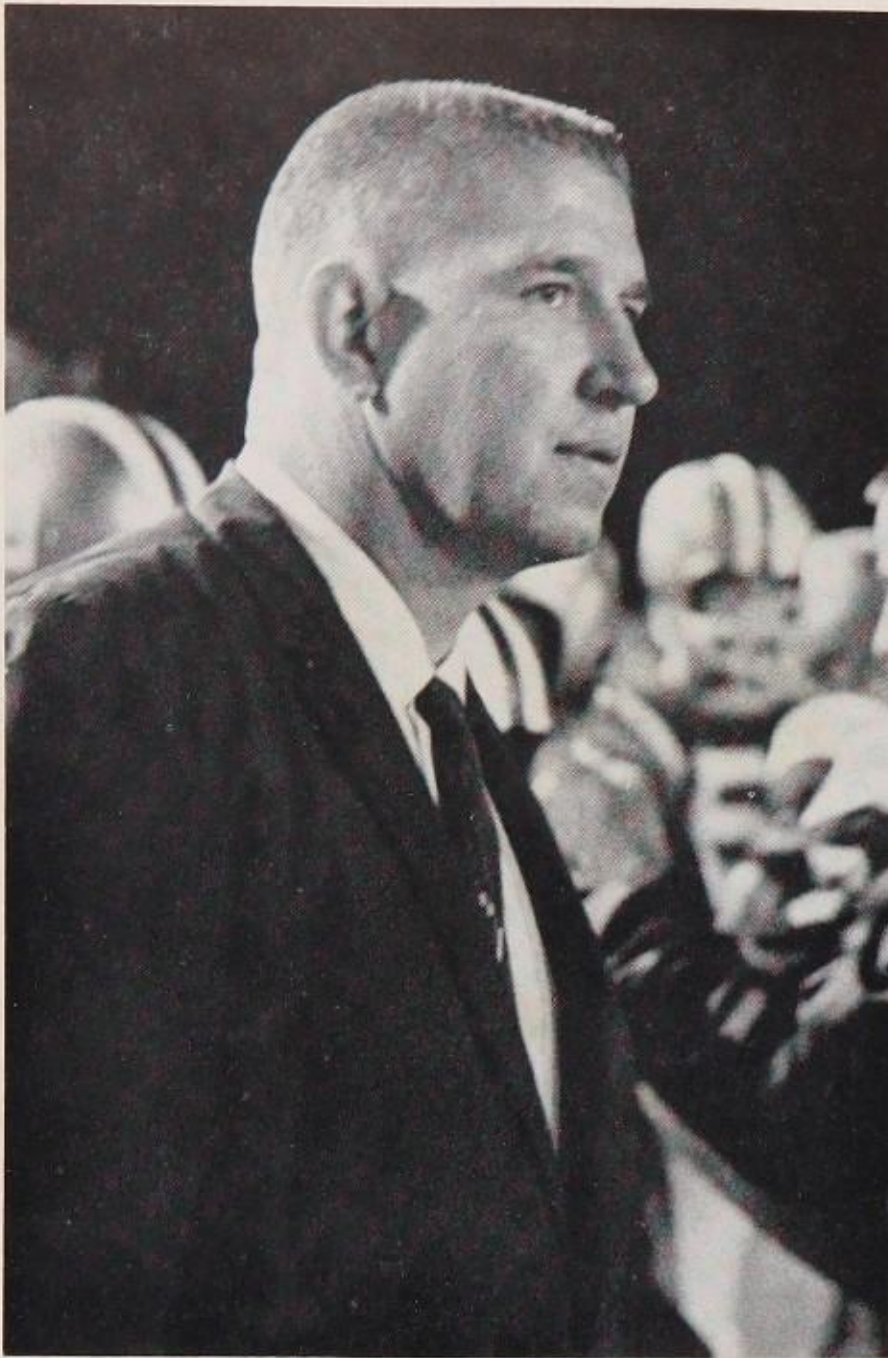

Television was introduced into the classroom at CHS as an effective aid in history. But its most popular use, entertainment, brought wide acclaim for "The Untouchables" and "The Twilight Zone." One of the most popular, educational, and entertaining shows included the political conventions and debates by the presidential candidates.

"Ben Hur," "Psycho," and "On the Beach" attracted the movie-goers. "Are You Lonesome Tonight?", "Maria," "Exodus," and "The Chipmunk Song" were popular discs. Short skirts, stove-pipe pants, tennis shoes, and "winky dolls" were fashion fads.

dedication—

Expression of gratitude

Hidden within brawny exterior is an infinite capacity for love which drives you to serve humanity to the utmost. Your strength of direction has given many of us the helping hand we've needed. You have brought honor to Chamberlain High School, but even more, you have given us goals for which to strive. You are a man of many talents; some of which are little known. Your ability to write songs, take candy from teachers at faculty meetings, and be responsible for an enormous amount of money collected for the expansion of our stadium are just some of the qualities you possess. Your friendliness and eternal wit make us realize what a gracious man you are. Your sense of honor and integrity are a guide for us to follow. The devotion and understanding you have given your Chiefs and the perseverance you have shown in making them Western Conference champions when they were only four years old are just some of the many reasons that to you, John Adcock, we proudly dedicate the 1961 TOTEM.

INTENSE CONCENTRATION during the final moments of play.

Individually: courage to speak unfalteringly before an audience which possesses completely different views, infinite curiosity in a life full of mystery and experience to set one's own standards according to one's ideals, the ambition and perseverance to attain fixed goals—these are some of the qualities which make up an individual destined for success. Expression of original ideas produces leaders of independence through self-made opportunities. Being able to "get along with" people and to lead a well-balanced social life without being a complete conformist is a true leader's quality. One who achieves position by transforming himself into a stereotyped image of someone else's styles, standards, and ideas is a form of self-destruction and imprisonment where the "wild freedom" of the mind is limited to the present day. As a gifted maestro composes a beautiful masterpiece from his whole mind and heart and feeling, so must one use personal experience and knowledge to compose his own idea about life and call upon his own resources to see that such ideas and goals are fulfilled. This is Expression in its real sense.

"HEY WAIT," yells Lynn Jani, treasurer, as she and Flemming Schultze, vice president, run to catch up with Bette Lou Oliver, secretary, and Cliff Denison, senior class president.

The greatest pleasure that a teacher may experience is that glow of comprehension in the eyes of a student when the flame of understanding kindles and matures into "intellectual fire." The natural characteristics of an individual, such as curiosity, thirst for knowledge, and immense satisfaction of achievement, must be cultivated and guided through education to maintain growth. "Knowledge is power," and the reality and truth of this statement must be impressed upon the minds of individuals.

Growing mentally is not becoming a "walking encyclopedia." It is a process requiring time and inquisitiveness through which awareness, sensibility perception, insight, and wisdom are acquired. To get the most out of life is to comprehend its purpose and its content. The acquisition of knowledge whets the mind's desire. Everyone must meet the challenge of life. A vital factor of every life is the expression of knowledge through writing or speaking, which stimulates others.

Mr. Ateo Leto

Principal Leto gives direction to the Chiefs

Mr. Leto accepts gift from Optimists

DEDICATED TO his chosen task of directing Chamberlain toward the highest and best in educational opportunities, Mr. Ateo P. Leto, principal, works ceaselessly and with great vision.

Through the determination and drive of Mr. Leto, and the cooperation of the student body and faculty, Chamberlain has risen to an enviable position on the educational ladder in the five years since the school first opened. There are no activities which take place on campus to which Mr. Leto does not give his support. He runs the gamut from a bench warmer at a rainy football game, a gardener as he supervises planting of azaleas in the beautification program, a supporter of March of Dimes Campaign, to a Christmas tree salesman for the Lions Club.

Among his many talents is an awareness of the projects and problems in which the students and faculty of Chamberlain are involved. By personal example and sound advice he offers effective leadership in his school and community.

The spirit of our Great White Father remains alive at Chamberlain. (February 27, 1961)

Administration guides students.

TRYING TO insure that Chamberlain students will gain the best possible education during their years in senior high is the primary goal of the administration as they work together to smooth out any problems that arise.

Mr. Carl Rassler, vice-principal, assumes the role of principal when Mr. Leto is away, but this is only one of his jobs. Arranging schedules, keeping the school informed by bulletins, Study Day, and numerous other tasks fill Mr. Rassler's day, but he still has time to help students or teachers with individual problems.

Mrs. Mary Earle Rumph, dean of girls, and Mr. Ernest Maney, dean of boys, handle student problems, whether discipline, health, or personal.

Working as a unit, the administration keeps the school orderly and smoothly functioning.

WORD POWER—is just what it takes when these members of National Forensic League get together in their school club meets of the district and state conferences. CHS chapter played host to the Westcoast area schools early in the new year when they set up hundreds of contests for visiting speakers and debaters. On the agenda also were tournaments of Congress at Tarpon Springs, Clearwater, Jesuit, Sarasota, and St. Petersburg High Schools. The busy program encourages students to learn some of the better pieces of literature for monologues and to do research for debates. The powers of the United Nations was a popular question debated this season. N.F.L. encourages students to develop habits of careful speaking and clear thinking and offers them many opportunities to learn self-expression and poise. Qualifications for membership include good grades, good character, and an interest in speaking and debate.

EVERYBODY has a chance to talk to this audience, his speech class. Those shy ones who never could make an oral report without blood, sweat, and tears, get over the case of butterflies in the stomach after a couple of trips up to the front. Stage-fright is a common disease which soon disappears in the interesting activities of the oral classes.

English forms the basis of our modern culture

TO STIMULATE interest in literature and to develop skill in creative writing and in unique speech with intensity and color is the purpose of the English department at CHS. Vocabulary, the basis for knowledge and expression, is repeatedly stressed by English and speech teachers. Words can be more powerful artillery than any weapon invented by man, for they are but the signs of ideas.

YAKKITY-YAK in any language is easy for those who think in it. CHS offers basic instruction in four foreign languages. From the written words of great Caesar to the modern French songs, Russian stories to Spanish menus, lots of literature is offered to these young Americans who would like to learn how the people of some other nations think and speak, live and work. They are in pursuit of a better way to understand other nations.

Colorful Spanish conquistadors, matadors, toreadors, and exciting bullfights are all characteristic of the Spanish people. Pan American Club members acquire knowledge of these aspects of Spanish history through club activities. An interest and understanding in the lives of Latin Americans is increased through the study of native songs, dances, social customs, and field trips to places of interest in our Latin Quarter. Practice in reading and writing the Spanish language is achieved by correspondence with pen pals in Latin American nations.

Today, Latin bridges the present with antiquity

HAS SOMETHING new been added to Latin? No, Latin is still an ageless language with which our parents struggled, we struggled, and our posterity will struggle. Over 60 per cent of the English language is derived from Latin words and this makes the study of Latin extremely helpful to our vocabularies. Julius Caesar and his campaigns in Gaul are read by second year students after they have mastered all the conjugations, declensions, and vocabularies. Many mythological characters are brought to life during the cultural recitations in both Latin I and Latin II.

The Latin Club participates in various activities throughout the year. Among these are the annual Latin Banquet where the first year students are sold as slaves, the PowWow, and the cultural trip to Ringling Art Museum in Sarasota.

Students study customs and language of USSR

NEW! THE RUSSIAN CLUB has just started this year. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in the Russian language, the customs, art, literature, and history of the Russian people. All members of the club must maintain an overall scholastic average of "C" or better during their period of membership. A noteworthy project of the Russian Club is raising funds for a future language laboratory at CHS.

While the first year students are obtaining a background of complicated grammar and vocabulary, the second year classes are having more intensive drill and study in these elements. In the latter part of the second year the enthusiastic scholars study Russian literature and history to obtain a better understanding of the national character.

Through the use of tapes and dialogues the students acquire a greater facility in conversation and comprehension.

Social studies teach understanding of world

"TO SECURE A BETTER understanding of our heritage and the world" is the purpose of the newly formed Chamberlain Social Studies Club. With Mrs. Ida Siemers as its sponsor, this club is composed of active members who take interest in the world around them. They face reality, using experiences in history to help chart a course for a better world. They realize that existence alone is not the primary concern of mankind, but rather life to the fullest through respect and understanding among nations.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF, as students of social studies soon learn in the World history, American history, and economics classes. Memorizing dates and keeping in mind the order of events that go with them is a problem all social studies students face, but the knowledge acquired after such courses is invaluable in later life.

The political crises of America, including those before and after her fight over independence, are some interesting facets discussed in American history classes. The lives of this nation's leaders of progress add color to the studies.

Problems of American democracy are explored in economics classes. Juglar business cycles, the gross national product, the stock market, and consumers' propensity to buy or save are just a few of the absorbing factors which determine a stable economy.

CONFUSION often engulfs the mind of a mathematics student, but when an understanding light shows in his eyes, the civilized world progresses just a little further. With this understanding is mixed a bit of interest and hope in the future. The math student may even hold the future of this world in the palm of his hand.

Those who pursue more than required courses in mathematics know that mathematical laws are inevitable truths which are constantly at work. Skillful manipulation of these laws by experienced and learned mathematicians may someday affect the survival of the world.

These people determine the direction of progress which civilization will map, and whether this course leads to the improvement of mankind or its destruction.

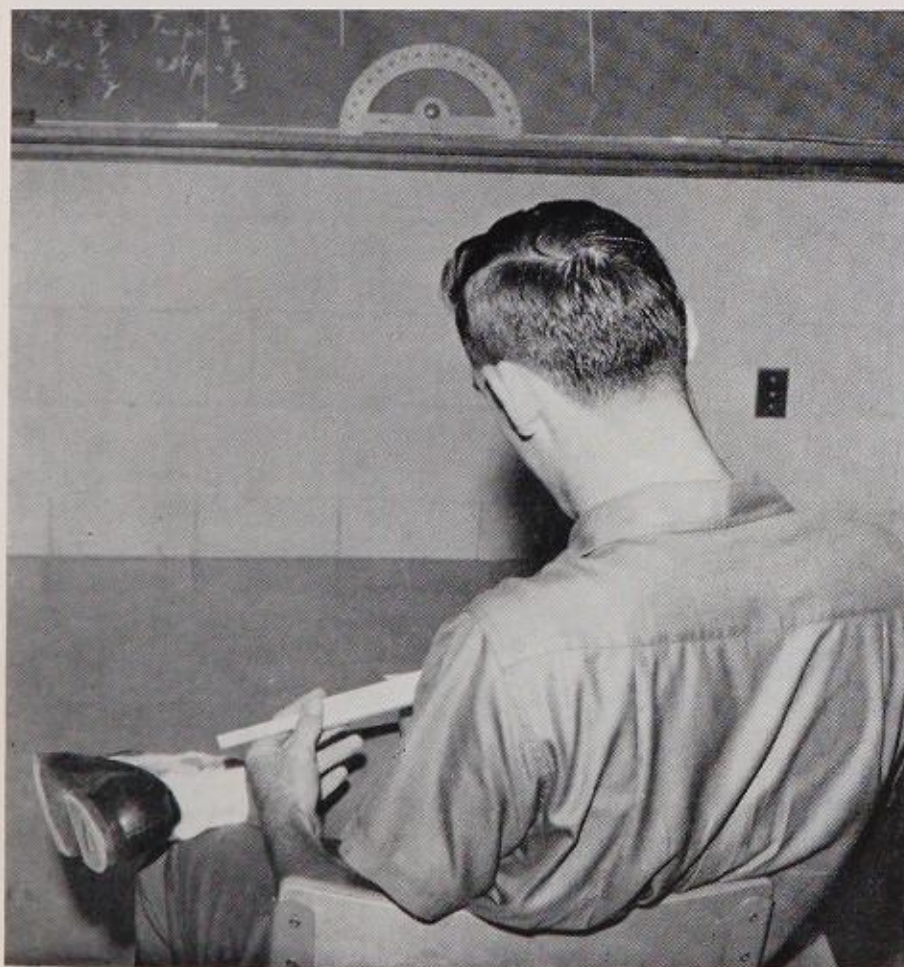

An ambitious planning for a useful future accompanies a serious attitude on the part of many of these boys and girls. The mathematics department sponsors a review for The Senior Placements and College Boards on Study Day.

GREAT MOMENTS in science are being watched by students of the space age. From satellites to astronauts progress has been steadily surging ahead. Students in pre-flight keep their eyes peeled to nearby Cape Canaveral where exciting events occur daily. They learn to keep a weather eye on the map and study air-traffic patterns. Coming out of the wide, blue yonder students set their sights on the more methodical sciences, chemistry and physics. Sweating it out during tense moments, students test their knowledge of formulas by experimentation. The biological sciences deal with "man" who will take the eventual flight into space and the means by which he lives. Among the varied species of plants and animals, students ponder the problems of life. To sum it up, general science is a combination of all the sciences. In this modern era students will have an overall understanding of the present and of the future. THERE'S NOTHING COMPLICATED about an automobile if you have a mechanic to fix it.

No back seat driving allowed here

A TARGET of opportunity for safe driving instead of a target of massacre is the aim of the driver education classes. Through studies of automobile accidents, their causes, and their pervention, these students learn the dangers of highway riding as well as the fundamentals of safe driving. With the practical application of these road rules taught in the classroom, teachers attempt to develop mechanical skills, to encourage good habits in road courtesy, and to promote attitudes for safe, sane, and sportsmanlike driving.

Industrial Arts

Dreams, plans, drills unite art and reality.

Mr. Harold Weesner

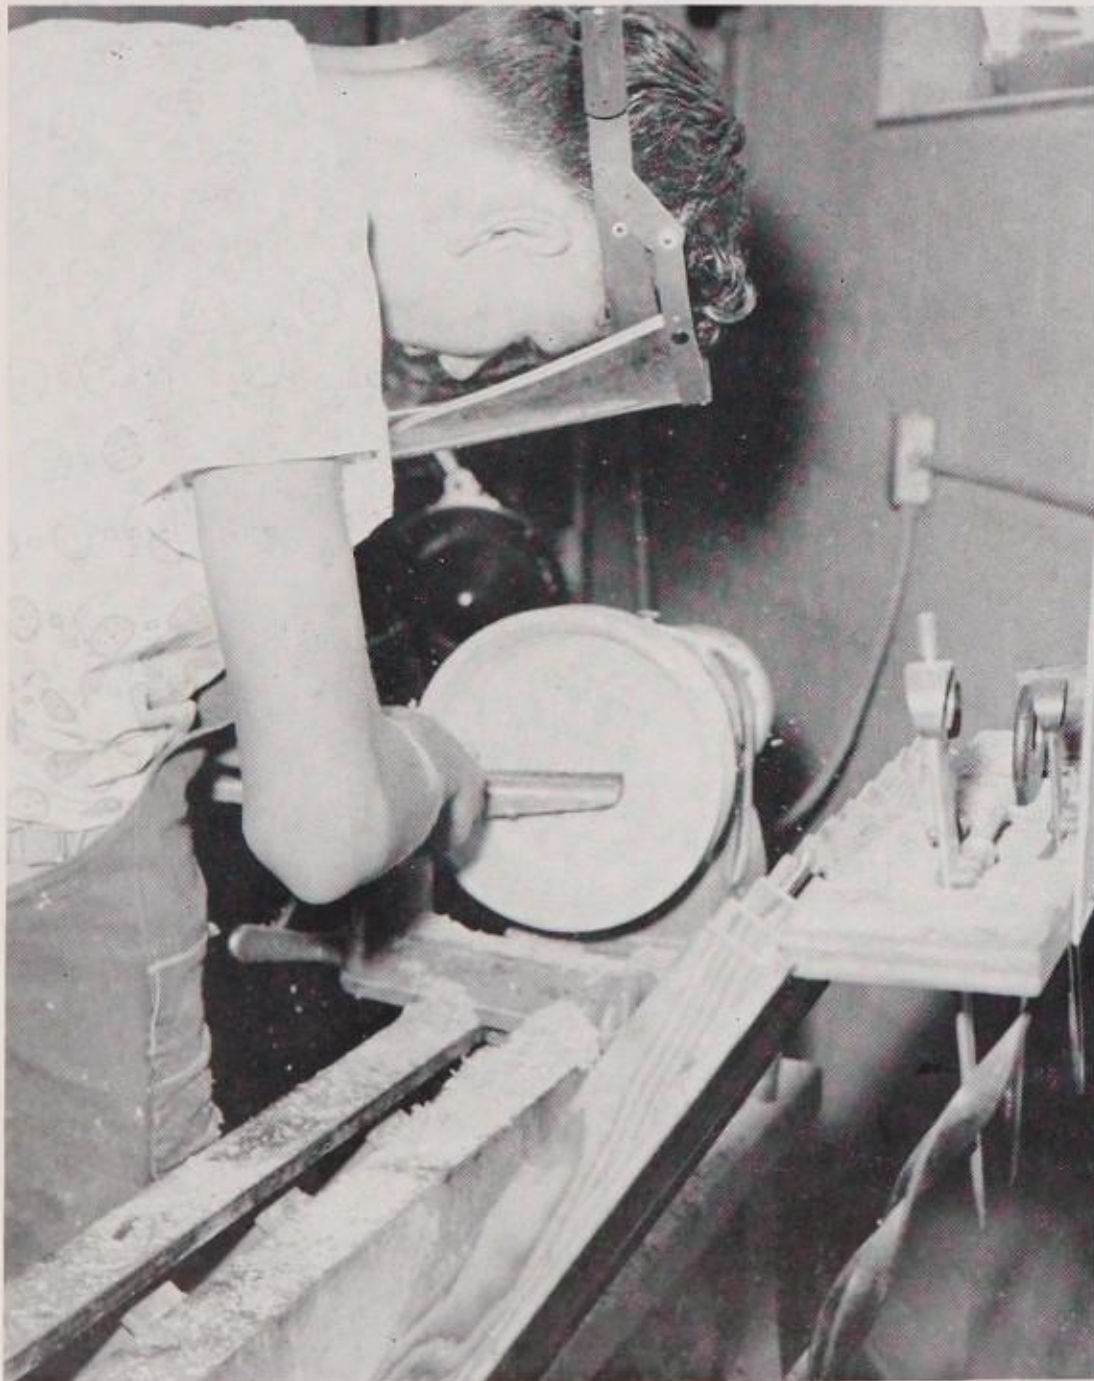

Mr. John Jackson

A VALUABLE PART of the Chamberlain curriculum, Industrial Arts prepares its students for vocations in structural work. Over the tumult and constant noise of the 400 wing, the diligent shop students are exploring work in the three related fields of woodworking, metals, and mechanical drawing and drafting. In Mechanical Drawing I, II and III accuracy is united with talent as the students learn to interpret ideas and blueprints and to express their ideas through their own creative ability. The special Drafting class, taught by Mr. Gordon, correlates mathematics and industrial drawing skills. Shop I emphasizes the fundamental processes, while Shop II advances into detailed construction, electricity, and ceramics. General Metals stresses welding, sheet metal construction and machine and bench work.

The Industrial Arts department equips the student with knowledge of mechanical devices and tools which will enable him to find work in commercial fields.

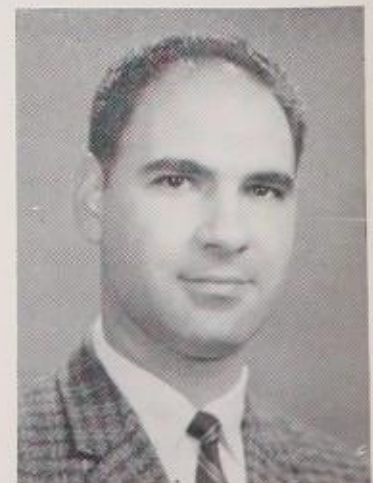

THE SAWDUST TRAIL leads to a new creation of beauty through the skilled hands of a diligent shop student.

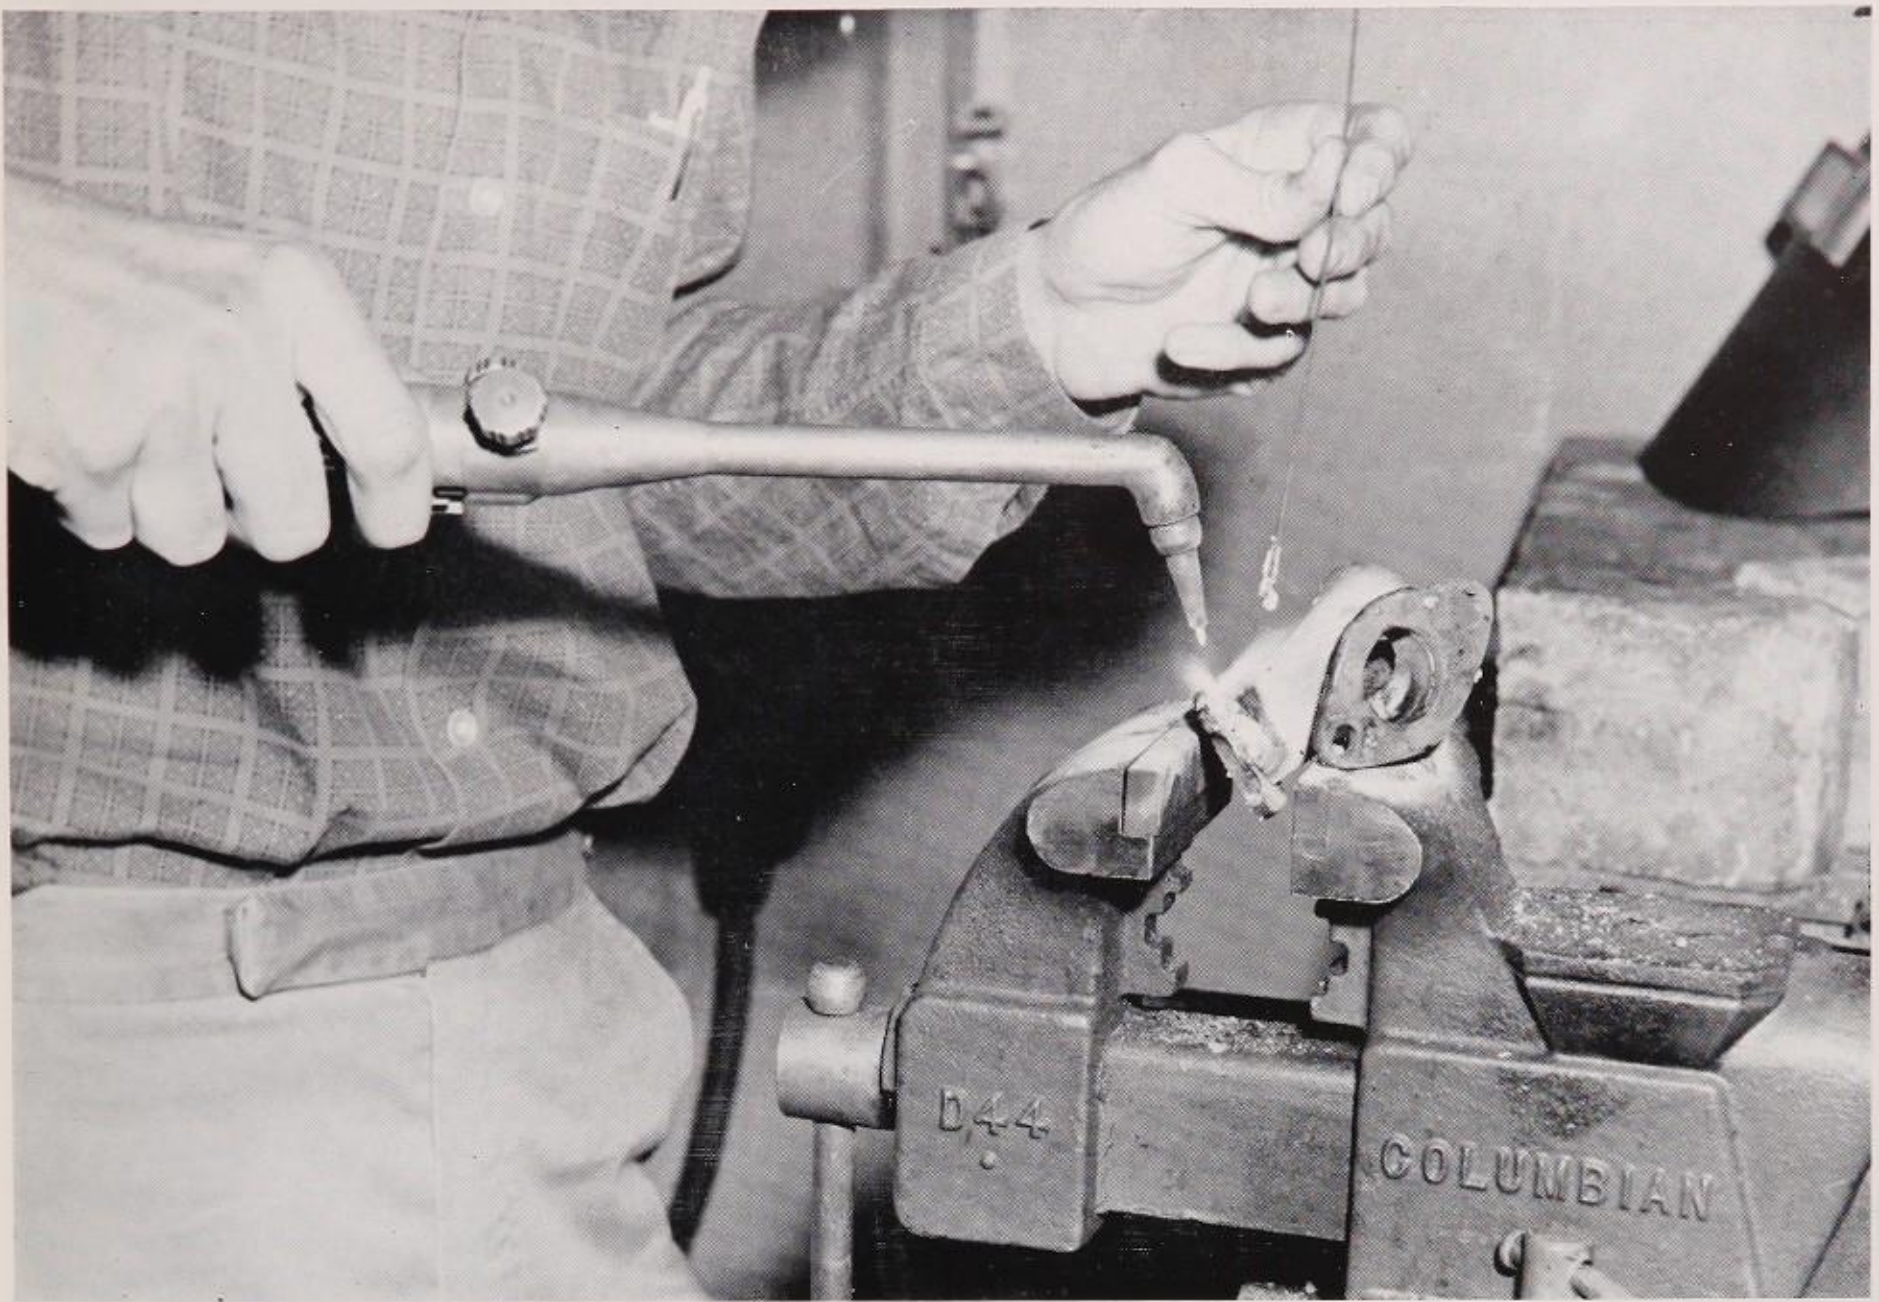

Mr. George Blanco

Mr. Dale Gordon

AFTER THE BLAST from the welding torch the metals fused together.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS courses include the following: Mechanical Drawing I and II, and General Metals I. The latter courses all require at least a prerequisite of one year of mechanical drawing.

General Metals I requires a prerequisite of high school shop and one year of mechanical drawing, plus a year of geometry if possible. This course deals entirely with work in sheetmetal, extruded shapes, hot and cold rolled steel, and machine shop practice. The elements of material buying and selling, time and motion studies for computation of labor cost are studied. Forging, tempering, hardening, and heat treatment are taught. Each student will have experience in machine lathe work including threading and boring.

"PLACE YOUR book on the counter, please," says library assistant, Beverly Jones.

They believe that a person who can read books and knows where to find information needed has the start on the road to success. Men of Song entertain at state PTA convention

SONGS of praise ring out through the auditorium as the combined chorus and drama students presented a striking Christmas pageant. As a community offering this program was taped by WFLA and broadcast over television during the Christmas holidays. Selected members of the chorus also sang at the state PTA convention at Fort Homer Hesterly.

The chorus presented "Oklahoma" during the early spring, and practice was devoted to this fabulous production. The chorus also participated in the District Vocal Contests and the State Vocal Contest held later in the school year.

Chiefettes, Majorettes catch attention of crowd

ALL EYES FOLLOW our sparkling Chiefettes and Majorettes as they proudly march on to the football field. This precision marching requires many hours of patience and tiring practice. These girls perform with the band at football games, parades, and other civic activities which include participation in the Pow Wow, sponsoring the Christmas Fantasy Ball, and attending district and state contest along with the band.

Outstanding citizenship, an over-all "C" average, and a pleasing appearance are the necessary qualifications for becoming a Chiefette. Training in baton twirling is an added requirement for the Majorettes. Try-outs for the coming year begin in March under the supervision of Miss Pat Hunt and Mr. Price who make the final selection.

Expression in society is vastly important, for it is here that an individual may test, through action, his philosophy of life whether original or borrowed. It is through this expression of common interests and ideals, that individuals confederate to form social classes and clubs according to to their needs and wants.

To cultivate a particular interest and feed it and sustain its growth until true expression of it is achieved is the sole purpose of numerous clubs. To render assistance and service to the school and the community for the betterment of a free society is the goal of other organizations. However, each of these various organizations is helping to create a society consisting of intelligent, well-adjusted, and mature individuals who will strive to lift their world to the highest possible measure of perfection.

This ceremony is based on the rituals of the ancient tribe, Timucuan, which once inhabited the regions around Tampa Bay. Dance and ceremony enveloped this mystical festival, and today, we as Chiefs are happy to celebrate this traditional rite. On the first night, the court is introduced to the entire tribe, and on the succeeding night at the Coronation Dance, the Inner Court is announced. THE KEY CLUB officers pose for a picture before rushing off to work on "Kids' Day". Everett Stallings, secretary; Joe McDaniel, vice-president; Tom Belt, president; Bob McIlwain, treasurer.

"COME HAVE A LOOK SEE" and help a deserving senior win a scholarship was the main interest of the Key Club in February, when their annual variety show was presented. During football season the earnest Key Clubbers parked cars for the Dads' Club.

In October they sell peanuts for Kiwanis "Kids' Day." This year the Key Club was honored to have the Foreign Exchange Student as a member of their club. The Key Club's boundless energy was put to use to help the United Fund. They gave two hundred man-hours of work.

Junior Opti-Miss

NEWEST SERVICE CLUB added to the CHS roster is the Junior Opti-Miss, which was formed in the early part of 1960. This newly-formed club started its service tradition by cleaning the school desks. Their money-making project was a dance which will become an annual affair.

The Club is sponsored by Mrs. Peggy Mullis. In order to qualify for membership the girls must rank high scholastically, have good character, and show qualities of leadership.

Junior Optimist

"OPTIMISM—Ingredient for True Leadership" was this year's topic for the annual oratorical contest for boys which was sponsored by the Junior Optimist Club. A $1000 college scholarship goes to the best speaker. This is a segment of the club's program designed to provide an opportunity for companionship between boys, develop their character and interests, and encourage loyalty to their country and school.

This year they bought new flags for the school campus pole. One is a flag of Florida and the other is a flag of the United States. They are sponsoring a Valentine Hop to alleviate some of the costs of this project. Members must maintain an overall "C" average and have outstanding character and leadership.

Everywhere over campus, on arms, on books, on cars, appeared the Winky-Blink dolls sold by these girls as their main money-making project. The "Salk" Hop for the benefit of the March of Dimes was the combined undertaking of the Kiwanettes and the Key Club. The "K" Club girls also ushered for the spectacular, "Come Have a Look-See" and served the dinner at the football banquet.

To signify their membership in Kiwanettes the girls proudly wear to many school functions their "K" blouses adorned with the club emblem.

"GIVE, GIVE, GIVE," say Gale Jenkins, Violet Hicks, Charlotte McCleskey, and Janice Fernandez as they hang up posters for the Thanksgiving Food Drive.

FOR THREE YEARS the Interclub Council has been the meeting place of Chamberlain's many clubs. Each organization sends its vice-president to meetings each Study Day.

The main concern of the council is to maintain an organized calendar of events preventing any overlap of money raising drives, activities, or service to the school.

This year's March of Dimes campaign was supported by the council which helped greatly in the organization of the drive.

Also, they compiled a list of available scholarships, which helped many seniors intending to enter college.

"GUIDING OUR YOUTH," the theme for Chamberlain's parents and teacher, was the basis of many fine programs this year in PTA. Money raising dinners in October and March helped the PTA purchase the remaining stereo equipment for the music department and donate to the Ateo P. Leto Scholarship Fund.

The state convention was held here in Tampa in November with a very large attendance.

Study courses were set up for elementary and Junior High Schools PTA's here at Chamberlain.

Band Patrons

BEHIND THE SCENES at half-time football shows are often seen several members of the Chamberlain Band Patrons Club. Props, such as the glowing jack o'lanterns in the Halloween season, were created by these members. The parents of the varsity and junior varsity bands, and the majorettes and Chiefettes, which comprise the Band Patrons Club, also chaperoned at the Governor's inauguration parade, in which the Band of the fighting Chiefs were invited to represent Hillsborough County Public Schools. Established to support the band in every way, this club was the only one to be formed before Chamberlain was in session.

NATURE WAS the first one to make a set of laws which demanded obedience from every creature and plant if it meant to survive. Physical fitness is one of its primary rules, for in being so, one can express a real knowledge of life by experiencing a long one.

Ancient, and among the favorite pastimes of all generations, expression for perfect physical fitness has been displayed through athletics. One's desires and needs may be satisfied by the numerous and varied types of athletic activities. Not only do athletes express their individual abilities, but learn and grow and mature through cooperation, sportsmanlike manners, and "a spirit superior to every weapon."

Offense Tops Northeast

THE OFFENSIVE TEAM began to roll early in the game and provided the crowd with some interesting playing as the Chiefs overran the Northeast Vikings 27-7. The Chiefs gained their first conference win in this game.

Fullback Nelson McLoughlin began the Chiefs scoring spree following a 65-yard drive by the Chiefs. Chris Thompson led the onslaught by scoring three touchdowns.

The Vikings only penetrated the Chiefs defensive line three times. One was a 79-yard dash on the third play of the game which resulted in the Vikings only score of the game. The other two times were fruitless for the Vikings. Chamberlain on the other hand ventured into Viking territory a number of times, scoring on four occasions.

From this game the fans could see that they were in for a season of spectacular playing and much broken-field running.

Chiefs Bow to Robinson 14-6

THE CHAMBERLAIN CHIEFS in their first encounter with the Robinson Knights didn't present a very good showing, losing 14-6. In fact the Knights controlled the ball practically the entire game.

The Knights introduced a new defense against the Chiefs and evidently it was enough to put the power behind the punch, Knight halfback, Alan Poe, raced 71 yards for their first score of the night.

The Chiefs were unable to play as a unit throughout the entire game. They did have their glorious moments however when halfback, Chris Thompson scored on virtually the same play as did Poe.

"COME TO PAPA" says Jim Jordan, Chief receiver.

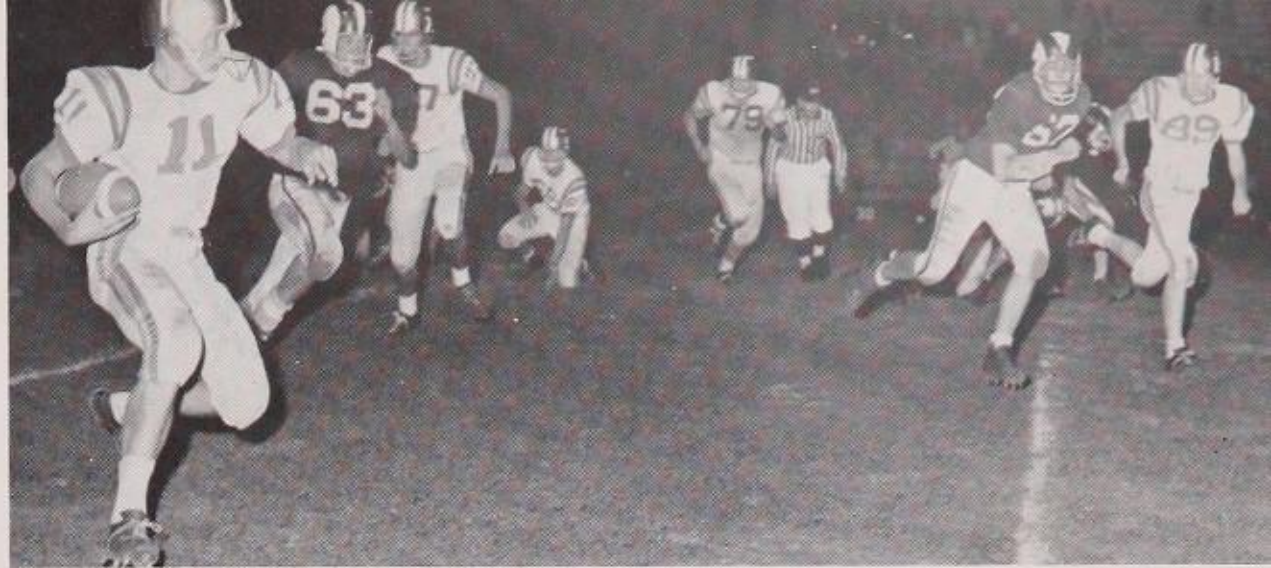

CHIEFS TAME LIONS

THE CHAMBERLAIN CHIEFS opened the 1960 football season by thoroughly defeating the King Lions 58-6. Paced by the experienced running of Joe Nicoletto and Chris Thompson and the passing of Bill Campbell, the Chiefs literally ran over the Lions.

The defensive team was also a standout for the Chiefs. They kept the Lions caged up during the entire game except for one play when a swift Lion back broke through the line after a fumble and went all the way for a score. This was the only time that the Lions went through the Chiefs' strong defensive line.

Many sophomores on the Chiefs' team gained valuable experience during the game in arts of tackling, blocking, passing, running.

CHIEFS LOSE TO HILLSBORO 7-0

10,500 people went to see this game

TOUGH DEFENSE, hard tackles, and experienced runners on the part of Hillsborough led to a hard fought loss for the Chiefs. The Chiefs never found a way to penetrate deeply into the Hillsborough territory. The fact that Chamberlain waited two whole quarters to make a first down was firm evidence that the Chiefs didn't get under way as a team until the second half. Plagued by penalties at crucial moments, the Chiefs were unable to score or even get near the goal line. Halfback Chris Thompson made a beautiful runback of a Hillsborough punt only to have it called back because of a clipping penalty.

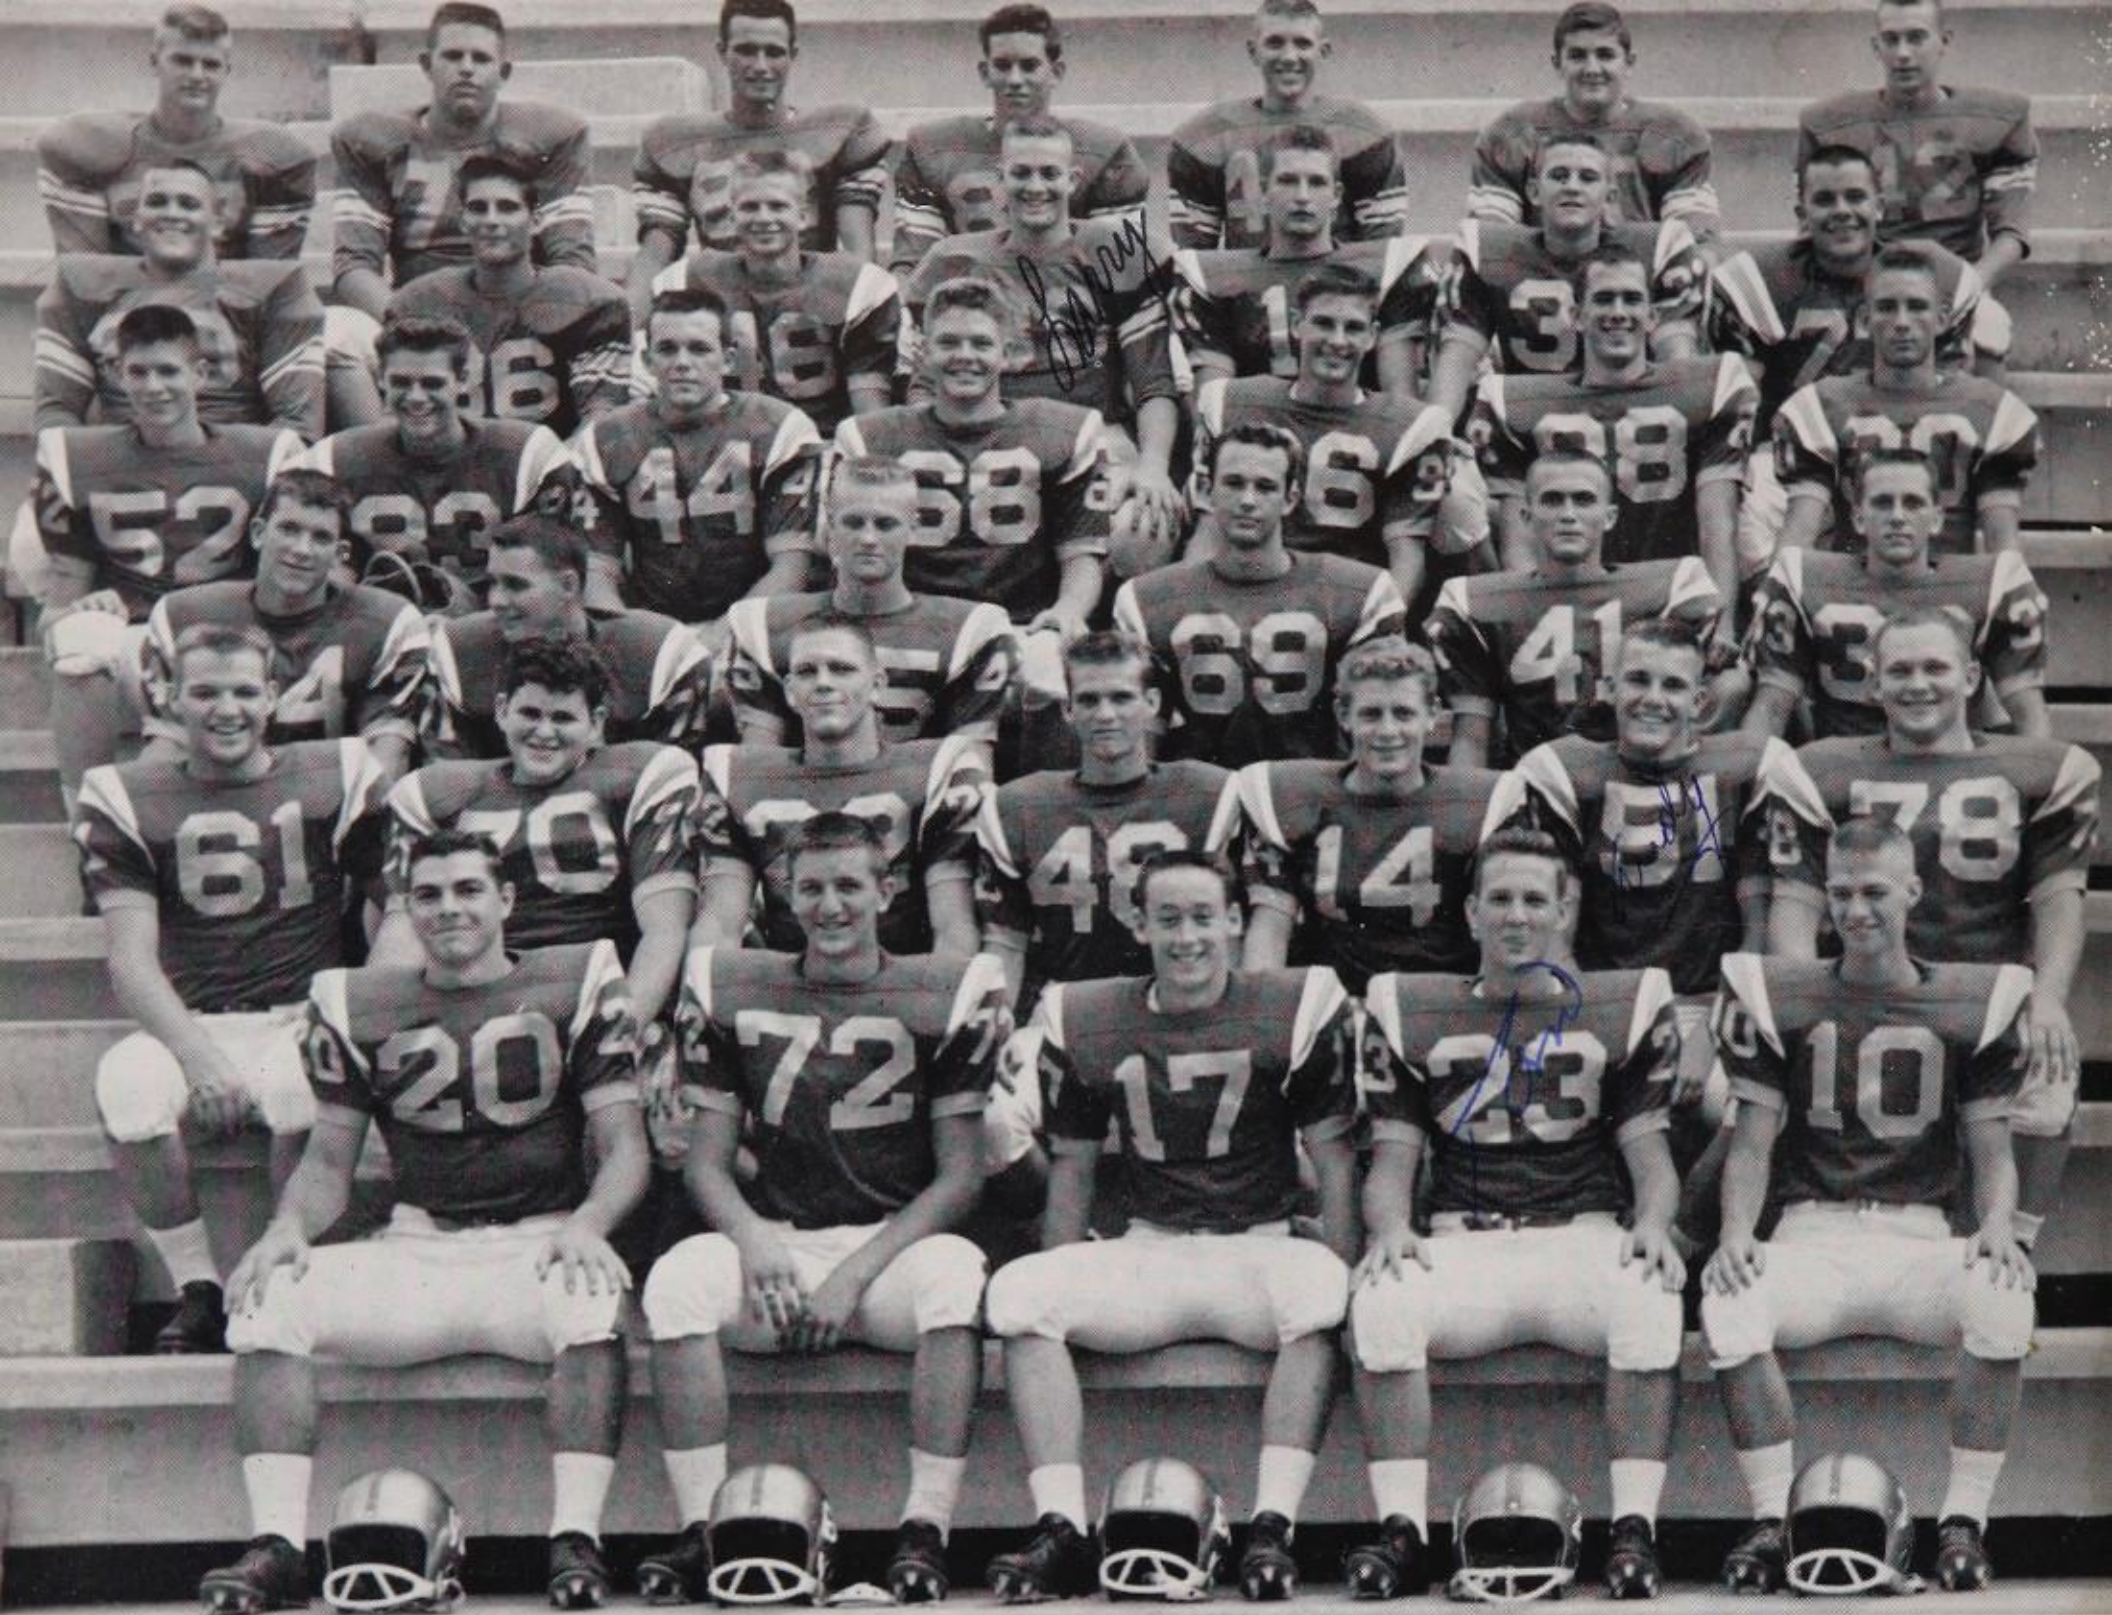

Hillsborough's lone score came after a long run by Terrier Tom Campbell. This was the only time Hillsborough really went through the Chiefs' strong defensive line. Chief Walter McCants foiled a second possible Terrier score by causing a Terrier runner to fumble the ball which the Chiefs recovered.

UNDERCLASSMEN DOMINATING

The Fighting Chiefs finish

DOMINATED PRIMARILY by underclassmen, the 1960 Chamberlain Chiefs' football team fought to bring the season to a successful close. The outlook at the beginning of the year seemed not as bright as it had the year before. This was a team composed of young and inexperienced boys who were going to be playing key positions on the field against opponents who knew exactly what they were doing. At the start of the season, though, it was evident that these boys were ready, more than ready, to meet any opponent that would challenge them.

They opened the season by trouncing the King Lions 58-6.

Things were a little rough with Hillsborough and Robinson, both of which, defeated the Chiefs. These defeats came only after hard fought games plagued by fumbles and penalties. Next on the list were Northeast and Manatee, both scalped by the Chiefs. Now it was beginning to show that these Chiefs were out to get someplace in the Western Conference. After climbing up the football ladder a step, they began to feel the spirit of the season, only to have Plant come along and knock them off the ladder by defeating them 23-0. There were no excuses made; the Chiefs were just out and out beaten. Homecoming, however, brought cheer and helped get the team back season with 7-3 record on the ladder again. They defeated Riverview by a margin of 35-7. Now was the time for some real football as they played Lakeland. This game was the thriller of the year; The Chiefs outfought the Dreadnaughts 20-19 in a tremendous game of skill, speed, defense, and plain guts. This was football at its best. After Lakeland they overtook Boca Ciega and Jefferson. Both were rough games illustrated by the fact that they barely skinned the Dragons 14-13 in the final quarter of the game. All in all it was a successful season, finding the Chiefs second in their division as the season came to a close.

CHS Coaches Give Leadership and Guidance

HEAD COACH John Adcock

THESE ARE THE MEN whom the boys look to for leadership, guidance and understanding. They are the ones who can make a successful team. Regardless of the sport, be it football, basketball, track or tennis, there is always someone there to help players improve their game.

The way to gain experience in a game is to participate in it, but without proper training the player would be just as well off on the bench. Through the coaches a boy receives proper training for his success as an athlete.

A coach's job does not end with watching boys workout in preparation for the next game. Many hours are spent setting up the entire season, helping the players with personal problems, and building morale as well as muscles in the boys.

Heading the Chiefs coaching staff is head football coach and Athletic Director, John Adcock. Coach Adcock also serves as sponsor of the "C" Club. We also have coaches Nuznoff, Elliott, Powell, Belliveau, Zinn, and McGriff, each with a specific job to do in the producing of a working "team."

Chiefs Trounce Riverview

THE CHAMBERLAIN CHIEFS football team presented a fine showing for Homecoming by defeating the Riverview Rams 35-7. Everyone got into the scoring act, with juniors Jeff Griffie, Ted Chaney and Spencer Mallory scoring a touchdown each. Seniors, Thompson and McLoughlin accounted for the other scores.

The Rams were no match for the fired-up Chiefs who were out to get a Rams horn to hang from their belts. The defensive team was as strong as ever and the offensive team literally ran wildly as the Chiefs exhibited their usual display of spirit and fight. Fast running, exact tackling, and smooth playing added to the attraction of the contest.

The Rams lone score came after a 52-yard jaunt by a Ram half-back. This was the only time the Rams penetrated the Chiefs strong line.

Chamberlain put on a superb halftime show, introducing the entire homecoming court.

WORLD'S LONGEST umbrella is exhibited at one of Chamberlain's games during the rainy season.

Chiefs Taken By Plant

THE PLANT PANTHERS defeated the Chiefs by a margin of 23-0. This was the worst defeat suffered by the Chiefs in over two years.

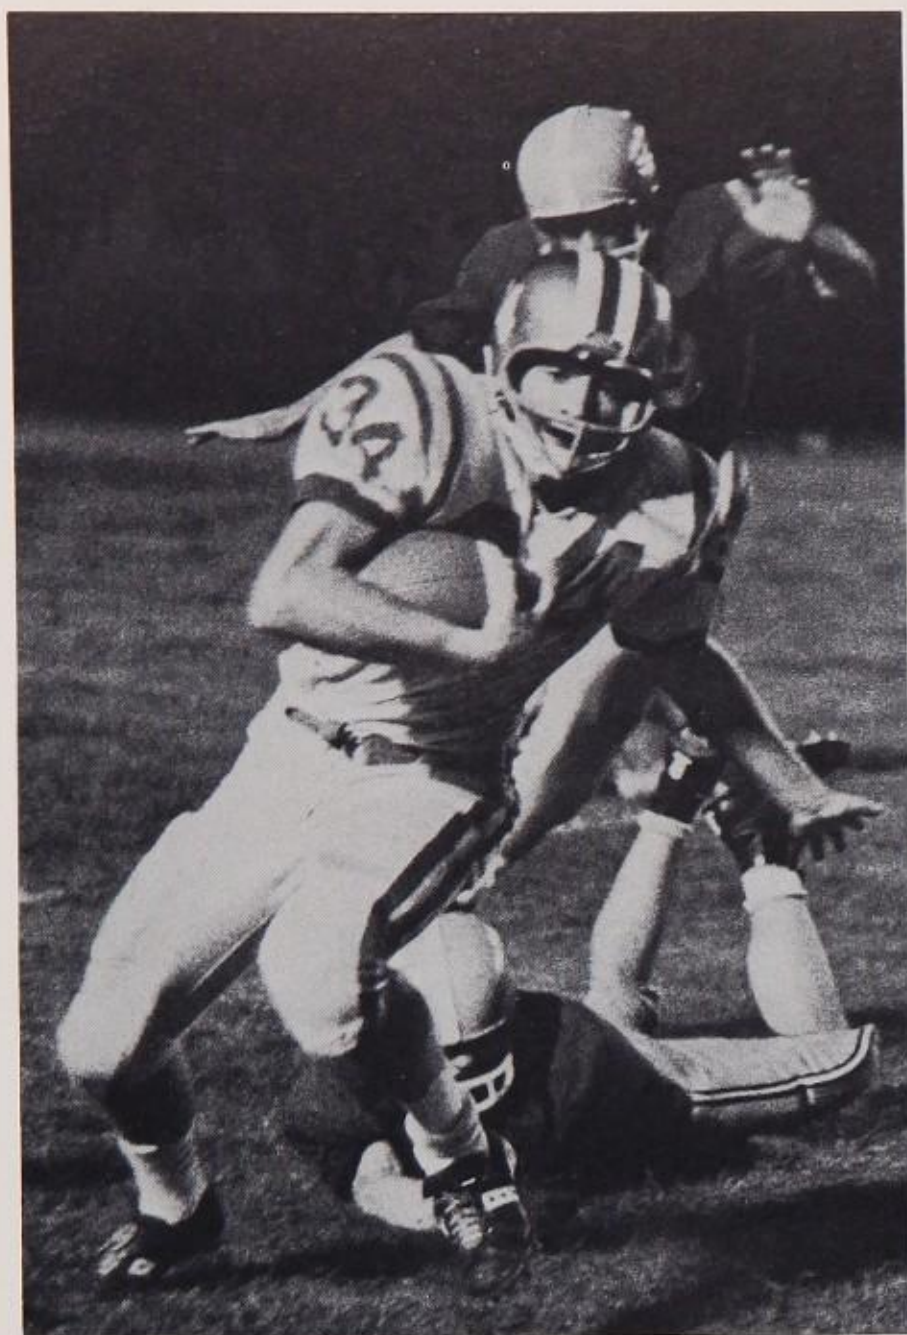

The Chiefs powerful offensive team was held to a mere 81 yards during the entire game. Plant's strong line forced Chamberlain into three fumbles, two of which set up Plant's touchdowns.

The Chiefs made only two drives during the game, one near the end of the first half and the other late in the fourth quarter of the game. Neither of the drives, though, put us within close scoring range.

The Chiefs' punter, Larry Gomez, got the Chiefs out of trouble twice during the game with his talented toe. He had a tremendous average of over 47 yards per kick.

FLEET-FOOTED HALFBACK Chris Thompson evades two hopeful tacklers.

Chiefs Beat Manatee

SPARKED by the efforts of two sophomores and a junior, the Chiefs forged their way to a 20-7 victory over the Manatee Hurricanes.

Down 7-6 after the first quarter, the Chiefs roared back to take 13-17 halftime lead. This score was set up by a 56-yard pass play between Chiefs Bill Campbell and Jim Jordan.

Both teams were plagued by penalties but Manatee had more than its share of bad breaks. One of the most disastrous was a bad call by Manatee concerning a penalty. This call forced Manatee to punt when they could have had third down and three yards to go.

The contest featured very long and spectacular runs, mostly on the side of Chamberlain. Chris "Running Buck" Thompson accounted for most of the long broken-field runs.

The Chiefs defensive team wasn't up to par and therefore Manatee moved the ball a good deal, particularly on the pass plays. The defense did however tighten up near the goal, when the pressure was put on them.

The offensive team did a good job of moving the ball. They gained a large portion of ground in the air. The rest was gained on running plays.

Chiefs Surprise Lakeland

We chartered a train to go to this game.

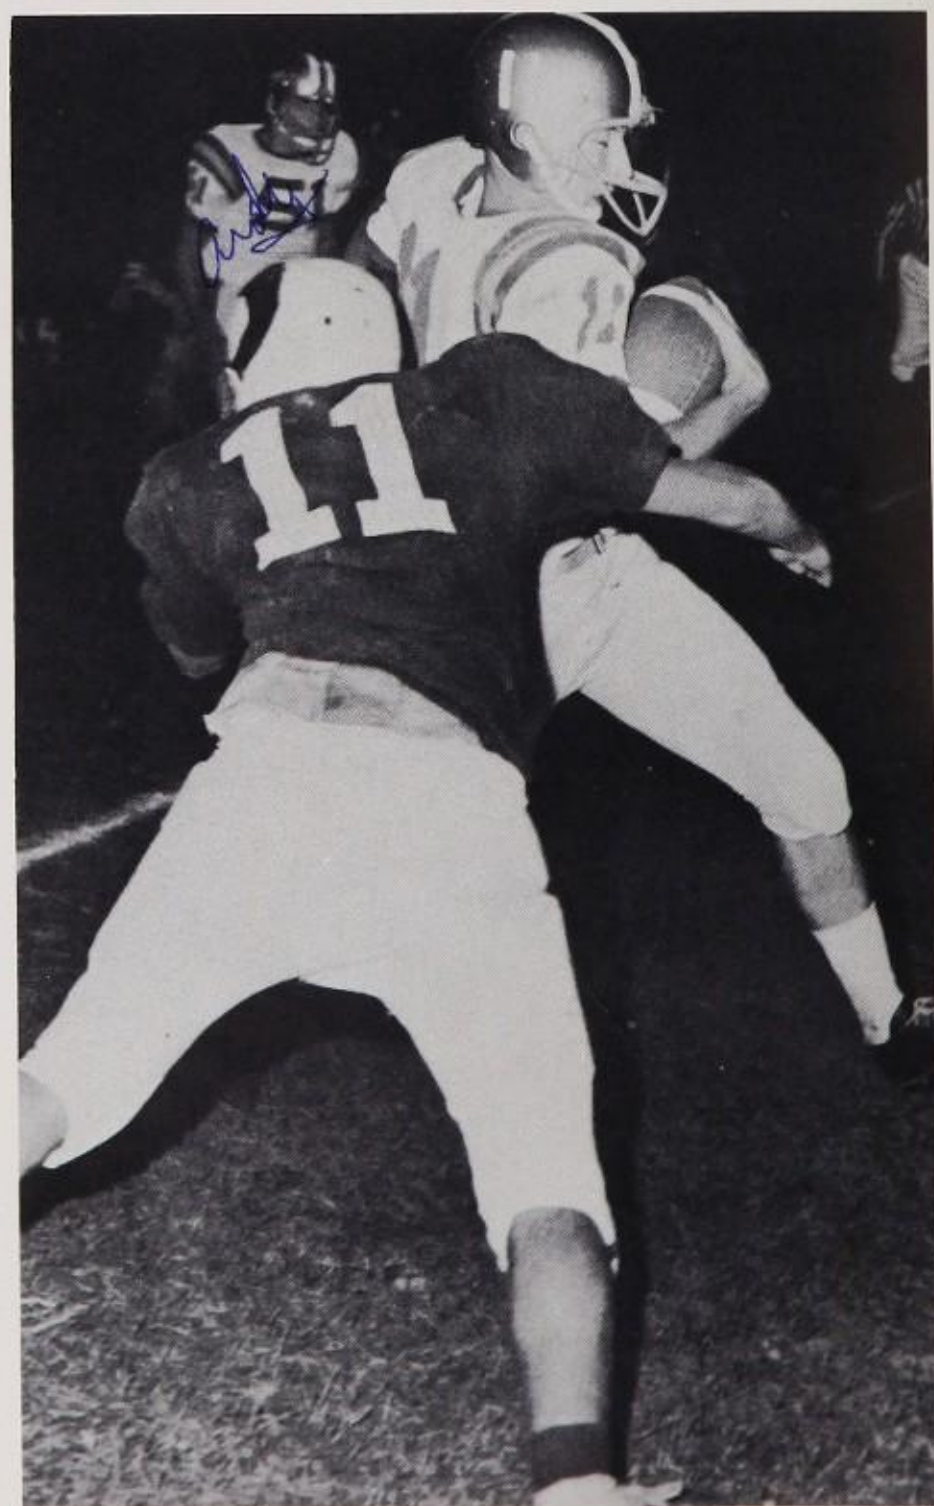

THROUGH THE SEASONS Chamberlain's football squads have picked up the name of the "Fighting Chiefs." Tonight they certainly lived up to the name.

In an exhibition of fight and spirit, the Chiefs out did the Lakeland Dreadnaughts 20-19. The offensive team was a never tiring mass of brawn and skillful playing. Paced by the mercury-footed running of Chris Thompson, the drive of Nelson McLoughlin, and the passing of Bill Campbell, the Chiefs pushed ahead of the Dreadnaughts in the final minutes of the game.

The Chiefs defensive team was the standout of the game. Led by the never-tiring efforts of Jack Shinholser, the Chiefs put in a new defense designed to foil Lakeland's pass play. It worked like a charm, forcing the dreadnaughts to stay on the ground. Their only out was halfback Harper who ran the end sweep. Defensive back Bill Davis did a great job of keeping Harper trapped.

Defeating Lakeland was the brightest feather put in the Chiefs headdress all year.

BILL CAMPBELL is about to take a spill on one of his end runs.

CHIEF BILL DAVIS grabs a Plant runner with one hand as Chief Dan Brazinski closes in for the kill.

Chiefs Overwhelm Pirates

IN THEIR LAST conference game of the season the Chiefs defeated the Boca Ciega Pirates 27-7.

Passing and long runs were exhibited in this exciting game. The Chiefs made some spectacular plays.

Although the score doesn't show it this was one of our hardest-fought games. The Pirates were not a team to give up. They had plenty of fight, but thanks to the efforts of such people as Tom Belt, Brian Bailie, and Walter McCants the Chiefs were able to top the Pirates. The Chiefs stayed on the ground throughout most of the game, but they occasionally went to the air for yardage.

The Pirates' lone score came when a speedy Pirate back picked up a fumble and sprinted 32 yards untouched for the score.

This victory was the one that assured the Chamberlain Chiefs of a position in the division no worse than tied for second place.

Chiefs Skin Dragons 14-13

THIS CONTEST was firm proof that football is definitely not a game of brawn. Winning the game for the Chiefs was Brad Gasque, the extra point kicker, who became the biggest little man on the team. Some 5000 fans saw the 135-pound Chief score the point that put the Chiefs in the lead, 14-13.

Paced by the spirited running of Chris Thompson and accurate passing of Bill Campbell, the Chiefs' offensive team did a fine job of moving the ball. The defensive team had some tense moments, one of which came when Bill Mitchell blocked an extra point kick after a Jefferson touchdown. Had the kick been good Chamberlain would have ended up with a tie instead of a win.

This being the final game of the season the seniors put everything they had into the game. Hard and loyal playing helped gain for the seniors a triumphant finish.

THE LOSS of his helmet doesn't seem to bother Chief, Dan Brazinski, as he tackles a Robinson runner.

The Coach

The Right Formula: Coach + Team = Results.

THE SEASON started as just regular season: players practicing, coaches yelling, backboards shaking.

Finishing the season with a none too glorious 13-18 record overall, the Chiefs had an astounding conference record of 13-3. This record was good enough for Chamberlain to finish in third place.

During the first of the season, Chamberlain had trouble providing the drive needed for the wins. However they did pull some important victories, important enough to put them among first five teams in the conference race.

Half way through the season the "Blue Chip" Chiefs had won eight games while losing seven overall. In the conference race, however, their record was a whopping seven wins and only two losses. Judging by this, it was to be a great season for the Chief's basketball team.

With only four games left to play, the Chiefs found themselves in a four-way tie for first place along with Hillsborough, Jefferson, and Dixie Hollins. Out of these four games three were conference and two of which were with Jefferson and Dixie Hollins. Within ten days the Chiefs could be moved from a tie for first place to fourth place. Then the floor dropped out from under the Chiefs. Within four days they had dropped from a tie for first place to third place, losing games to Jefferson and Dixie Hollins. The Chiefs finished the season in third place with a 12-4 record.

Coach Hindman Wall gives some pre-meet instructions.

Shotput, discus, and relays-big events for the track

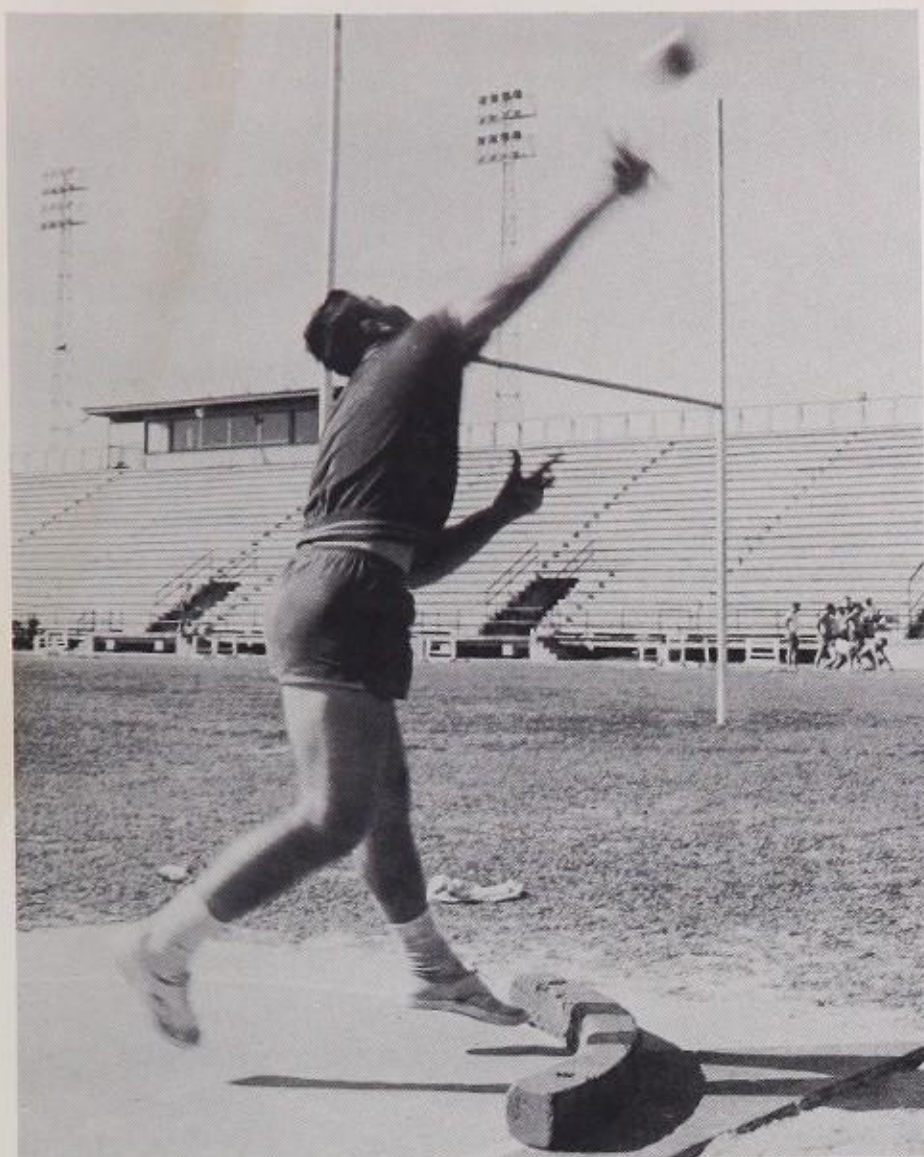

THE CHAMBERLAIN CINDERMAN have returned for another successful season. Among these varsity Chiefs are Nelson McLoughlin, a senior who won the state track meet in the shotput division, broad jumper Jim Stuck, and pole vaulter Bill Mixon, who give to the track team high hopes. The track team coach, Hindman Wall, also serves as a football coach and math teacher.

Some of the 1961 meets are to be held here on Chamberlain home grounds. This is a distinct advantage because the Chiefs have one of the few cinder tracks in the area. Several of the field events also have hard runways. Many of the runners on this track team suffer from inexperience, but this is being largely overcome through the training efforts of Coach Wall.

Season tickets were sold in an attempt to boost support of the spring sports. The Chiefs opened the season by winning two of their first three meets, and loyal fans say the cindermen are expected to come out on top in several meets this year.

Baseball players expect hit-run season

THE CHAMBERLAIN BASEBALL TEAM was expected to complete quite a successful schedule, paced by the able playing of Bob Jordan, Larry Mitchell, and Joe Nicoletto, who played on the 1960 Colt baseball team in the national finals.

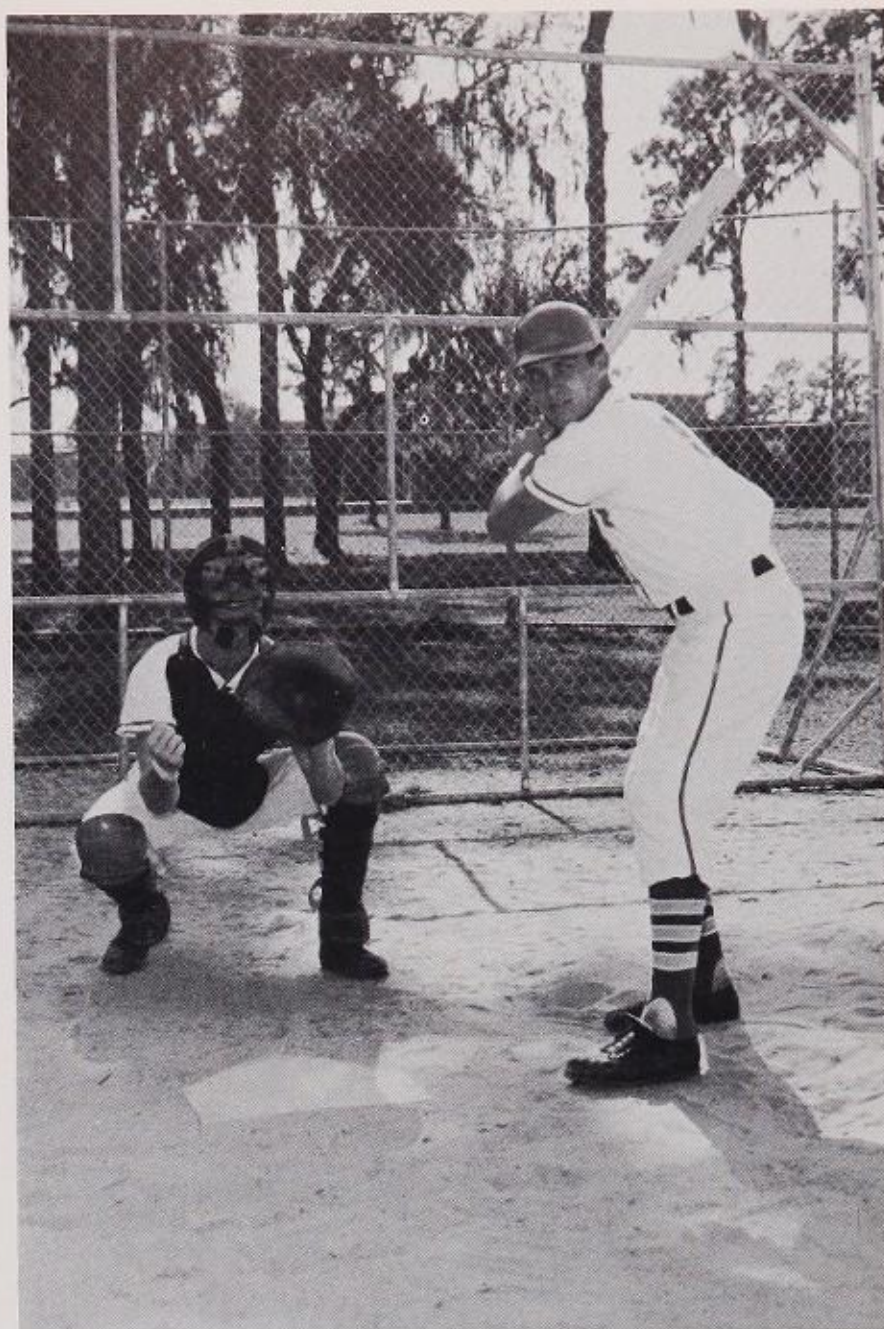

The boys promised to justify the hopes of Coach McGriff, a newcomer to Chamberlain's staff. Coach McGriff was faced with the job of re-organizing the team after the loss of several senior lettermen.

INSTRUCTIONS are given to Joe Nicoletto, Bob Jordan, and Larry Mitchell by Coach McGriff.

TENNIS TEAM: Terry Plueneri, Harry Folsom, Allen Sellars, and Edward Dempsey.

Racketmen show experience

The Chamberlain tennis team for the present season is paced by the able experience of three well-qualified veterans, Terry Plueneri, Harry Folsom, and Allen Sellars.

The team is coached by Jerry Elliott, who is also a Business Law teacher.

This year's schedule puts these boys against some of the finest tennis players in the state. Judging from past performance, they should do very well.

Swimming team

THE SWIMMING TEAM should make a fine showing against any team they tangle with. There are many veteran swimmers returning to the water for the Chiefs.

The tankmen, coached by Mr. Ken Belliveau who also serves CHS as an English teacher, should finish the season with a presentable record.

Spring Sports teams promise interesting season

"C" Club

The "C" Club is an organization strictly for the boys who have earned letters in sports. Most of the projects that the "C" Club performs concern the improvement of sportsmanship and school spirit. Sponsored by Athletic Director John Adcock, the "C" clubbers also run the concession stand in the gym during the basketball games.

Golf Team

CITY CHAMPIONS return with high hopes for another victorious year. They are bolstered by seasoned lettermen, Shan Smith, Jim Bardin, Bobby Walker, and Bill Koerner who helped to retire the city golf trophy in 1960 season.

Mr. Ken Nuznoff, the new coach, is enthusiastic about his job and hopes to produce a worthy team.

NOISE UNLIMITED describes pretty, perky, and peppy cheerleaders as they instill true Chamberlain spirit into the hearts of fans. Bette Lou Oliver heads the cheerleading squad of enthusiastic and talented girls selected by the faculty, a panel of judges, and the student body. These lively girls lead the body in pep rallies and enliven the basketball games.

Uniform in style and sparkling in appearance, the well co-ordinated cheerleaders add sparkle to the exciting grid-iron games. Among the privileges of the cheerleaders are attending the football banquet and the annual cheerleaders' banquet. They also take part in the 'Come Have a Look See'.

J. V. Cheerleaders are Ann Bissett, Sharon McCulloch, Lynn Claustre, Lucille Cianci, Pam Entwistle, Judy Beckner, Donna McMakin, Ann Harrison.

Boys' P. E. teaches physical fitness

MUSCULAR CO-ORDINATION and physical fitness are two of the prime goals of the boys physical education department. Football, basketball, tumbling, volleyball, track and first aid are taught along with others related sports. Physical education is an excellent stamping ground for undiscovered athletes, where the coaches can view the prospective workers. Disciplinary measures are heeded—five laps around the track for talking without permission. Physical education conditions young men to go out and face the world—a healthy, strong world.

RIGOROUSLY the Girls' PE Department conditions girls and builds strong, healthy bodies. Sound mind, sound body, and strong character are built on the physical education courts. After two years of general physical education, girls may take individual sports such as tennis, shuffleboard, ping-pong, golf, and badminton.

All girls are required to take two years of physical education. Included in those two years are volleyball, basketball, softball, speedball, soccer, first aid, drill, and tumbling. A large part of physical education is daily calisthenics so that bodies are tuned—minds alert to meet the challenge of tomorrow.

March 30, 1888

Mr. Matthew Brady,
Brady Galleries
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Brady:

I am enclosing a photograph made in my new office. As you can see I have a number of new gadgets and innovations installed. I have been considering electric lights, but I really think that is only a passing fancy and besides there seems to be quite a bit of danger from shock, as well as lightning. It was with some misgiving that I even considered having a telephone installed but I do find it convenient at times. I also have a typewriter which I am using to write this letter, you just press certain keys and you write, only I should say you print. I do not think it will be in very wide usage except as a novelty. My secretary is also very modern, sometimes I think she is too modern. Her escapades are a bit bizarre at times. There was quite a scandal last week; she had the nerve to ride a horse astride, I was horrified to say the least.

I no longer use wet plates and I find the dry plate process much more convenient. I have been experimenting with this new film negative material, this photograph enclosed was made with the film process. It looks like a big step forward if it is ever perfected.

I will close for now and send this down to the train so you will get it by next week. My secretary will take it down in her buggy. I do not want a repetition of last week's episode so she uses the buggy exclusively.

Your former student,

Tom Ray Taggart

With special skills they serve CHS efficiently

"MAN DOES NOT LIVE by bread alone," but it helps. And the lunchroom staff makes sure that chiefs, get variety as well as balance in their meals. Serving early risers and providing a refreshing lift to students after school, the cafeteria personnel are always busy. Under the management of Mrs. Octavia Robles, they skillfully plan healthy and tasty menus.

CUSTODIANS KEEP these tribal grounds sparkling for each new day's class activities as well as after special events to which Chamberlain serves as host. During the flood and Hurricane Donna's unwelcome visit, they volunteered much needed help in sheltering those who suffered most from these disasters. In addition, these wonderful individuals offer a fine example of school spirit.

Totem regresses - through sand and suntan lotion

NEAT WHITE-BELLIED SEAGULLS screeched overhead, through an otherwise deserted blue sky. As we squished through the salt like sand, transistors blasted from innumerable clusters of bathers, a crowd of merry-makers surrounded a three-man combo playing for aspiring limbo artists, and here and there a swinging bongo rocked. Down the beach a firmly implanted crutch marked the sanctuary of the Totem staff. An obliging sun gently scorched us and more. While we absorbed the panacea and replenished our spirits, we reflected upon the year, Chamberlain, and our Totem. September, 1960, had reopened the doors of CHS. Enthusiastic greetings were exchanged with a special welcome for our Danish student, Flemming Schultze, before we again slid into our comfortable little academic ruts.

Meanwhile, the Russians still refused to let world affairs grind to a peaceful stand. Khrushchev was at it again, planning a happy party for Red satellite rulers—on Manhattan Island with the UN as a backdrop. Cuba's clown, Fidel Castro, wound up being the life of the party when he and his colleagues slaughtered chickens in their plush hotel suite and had fresh meat for dinner. Dag Hammarskjöld emerged as the hero of the year when he rose during a general assembly of the UN to defend his position as Secretary-General and received a standing ovation from the world's leaders.

Hurricane Donna swept up the State of Florida, smashing Key West and Miami Beach and barely missing us at Tampa.

1961 brought changes in the political scene. It was January 3rd when Chamberlain's half-frozen band of the Fighting Chiefs performed for the inauguration of Florida's new governor, Farris Bryant.

Seventeen days later another freezing inauguration took place in front of the Capitol. Thousands jammed into Washington, D. C. to see John F. Kennedy take his oath of office and become the 35th President of the United States.

February 27, 1961, Chamberlain's flag flew at half-mast. We had lost our beloved principal. His last assignment had come too soon. The time allotted to him to do his work was only fifty years, but in those years he crowded a century of good and kind deeds. Because he loved us, he made the rules strict and just. He wanted to leave a legacy of respect for learning, law, and the individual. This he did with a school—Chamberlain. He acted in the only way he could, the only way he knew how—the way of the All American Principal.

The world around us continued to rage. Riots flared up again and again in Laos and the Congo. Closer to home, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, beheld another kind of riot. Released from tensions of mid-term exams 35,000 vacationing college students whooped it up on the streets and beaches "where the boys are."

A darling Ham cleverly pushed the right buttons on his exciting capsule ride through space to become the United States' most renowned chimp. Alan Shepard, our first astronaut, flew from Cape Canaveral through the stars to set America's hearts high.

These are the events which have shaped our world, our school, and us. We of the Totem staff are especially grateful to the people who have been of special help in our work this year. Mr. Carl Rassler for taking over a tremendous job and doing tremendously; Mr. Brooks, our printer; Mrs. Nancy White, our alter ego advisor; Mr. Tom Taggart, our photographer; Betty Monahan for taking the senior portraits; Doris Moore, our secretary; Fred Partin for doing such a wonderful job with the color pictures; the new staff members, our apprentices; Mike Mickey for throwing swinging staff parties besides working so hard on the staff before he moved; Davy Runslow and Ralph for enlivening the dummy pages; and others who have helped us. These reflections and myriad others filter through our minds as we lie here, just as the sand is filtering through our toes. Right now we are even grateful that the sun is going down.
